

Green Urges Hour and Wage Bill Passage as Lieutenants Oppose It

A.F.L. Leader Writes Chairman Black To Pass Bill and Later Revise It to Meet Labor's Requirements.

Metal Trades President Asks That Bill Be Sidetracked Until Next Year.

Washington, July 30 (AP).—William Green clarified the American Federation of Labor's attitude toward the administration's wage-hour bill today in a letter urging the Senate to pass the measure instead of sending it back to committee.

Some federation officials had sought to sidetrack the measure. John P. Frey, president of the federation's metal trades department, said he had asked a number of Senators to delay its consideration until next year.

Green's letter was received by the Senate shortly after a non-partisan House bloc organized to hold Congress in session until the wage-hour legislation is passed.

The Green letter, addressed to Chairman Black (D-Ala.) of the Senate labor committee, was expected by the measure's proponents to counteract the sidetracking movement started after Frey had sought to forestall immediate action.

"Best Bill Possible." Green's letter said the Senate should approve "the best wage and hour bill possible" without sending the measure now before it back to committee.

"The wages and hours bill in the form in which it is now before the Senate does not meet the expectations of labor," Green said in a statement issued in connection with the letter.

"However, we recognize the need for the enactment of wages and hours legislation. "For that reason, rather than recommend the Senate bill for further committee consideration, it would seem advisable to pass the bill in the Senate with the hope that it can be revised and amended in the House in such a way as to make it more nearly satisfactory and acceptable to labor."

The non-partisan organization meeting was attended by more than 49 House members, including Democrats, Republicans, Progressives and Farmer-Laborites. Representative Healey, (D-Mass) was elected permanent chairman. He was directed to appoint a steering committee of 25 to "defeat any and all attempts to adjourn Congress until the wage-hour legislation is enacted."

Washington, July 30 (AP).—A determined campaign to sidetrack the administration's wage and hour bill gained strength today from the support of American Federation of Labor officials.

John P. Frey, president of the Federation's metal trades department, disclosed he had asked a number of Senators to delay consideration until next year. Frey said he favored wage and hour standards but was opposed to the powers which the bill would give to a new labor board.

Majority Leader Barkley (D-Ky.) and Senator Black (D-Ala.) expressed confidence the Senate would pass the bill, despite a split in Democratic ranks. Debate was nearing an end.

Many Democratic senators who helped to shelve the President's program for reorganizing the Supreme Court were allied against the wage and hour measure. Most of those who stayed with the administration in the court fight were supporting it, but there were exceptions on both sides.

Republicans were almost solidly behind the opposition proposal to recommend the bill. If such a motion should carry, it would end for this year Senate consideration of the measure, one of the major items on the administration program.

CELEBRATION SATURDAY AT EAST KINGSTON

The fourth annual celebration and program of fireworks, under the auspices of St. Ann's Society, will be held at the East Kingston baseball field, in the center of the village, Saturday night.

This year, according to the committee in charge, the program for the entire evening will surpass anything ever held in connection with the feast of St. Ann, patron saint of the society.

Early in the evening there will be a dance, with music by Bob Steuding's eight piece orchestra from Kingston. Refreshments will be on sale.

About midnight, the fireworks will start, offering a display that will surpass any pyrotechnic presentation ever seen in East Kingston.

Sunday, the feast of St. Ann, there will be a high Mass in St. Colman's Church, and after the religious ceremony a procession through the village, as usual, led by a band.

Community Night At Two City Parks Attract Crowds

Community Night programs were held Thursday evening in Block Park and Barmann Park, which drew large audiences when special programs were given at both parks. At Barmann Park over 1,200 attended, while in Block about 360 were in attendance.

At Barmann Park a fine program had been arranged by the playground directors, William Reardon and Miss Althea Schaefer. A loud speaker had been installed by Michael Amarello and the Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corporation ran an electric line to operate the movie machine operated by Henry Millonig, Jr., who showed several reels of pictures. This was the first time in years that outdoor movies had been shown in the city. The loud speaker was also operated from the line furnished by the Central Hudson.

The park policemen, composed of boys of the playground, and headed by Chief Alfred Mayone, took charge of the park and handled the grounds in an efficient manner. He was assisted by Officers Clarence Markie, Warren Robinson, Harry Mickie, Herbert McElrath, Frank Van Buren and Al Fischang.

The program given by members of the playground group was as follows:

Waltz clog, given by Faith Cadden, Janice Cadden, Hazel Post, Anne Carchidi, Joan Cabili, Maureen Rice, Patricia Rice, Christina Whipple. A solo clog was given by Anna Lee.

A soft shoe dance was given by Mary Carchidi and also an eccentric tap.

Dolores Vollmer gave a military tap, while Kathleen Robinson gave a toe dance, and a tap dance by Marge Bartlett.

Fred Miller, a youthful acrobat, also performed, and a buck and wing was given by Dolores Vollmer.

The Hill Billy Band of Barmann Park, composed of Dan Mayone, John Bonse, Donald Sickler, Joseph Carchidi, William Rice and Carl Thurn, and William Craus, Dorothy Miller and Anne Carchidi rendered several selections.

Practically the entire Seventh ward attended the Block Park community night and heard Bill Crosby, yodeling cowboy, and his son, Bobby, sing and yodel many old favorites. After a huge bon fire was lit and the Seventh ward mothers, fathers and children were seated in front of the fire, the yodeling cowboy and his son entered the large circle formed by the parents and children and sang the following songs: "Sing Me a Hill Billy Ballad," "In a Little Shanty My Mother Made For Me," "Arizona Trails," and "Going Back To My Texas Home" (Mr. Crosby's theme song).

Bobby Crosby then sang the following selections: "Polly Wally Doodle All The Day," and "Polly Wally Doodle All The Day." Each of these selections brought forth a great round of applause. Bobby was accompanied on the guitar and harmonica by his father, Frank Koubout and Herb Wolff.

Next entertained the crowd by playing many popular harmonica selections. By popular demand, Carl Spiegle was brought back to lead a community sing. Some of the selections sang by the children and their parents were: "East Side, West Side," "Row, Row, Row Your Boat," "Smiles," "Down By The Old Mill Stream," "Let Me Call You Sweetheart," "Waiting At The Gate For Katie," and a host of other old favorites.

In the early part of the evening the "old folks" and the young lads hooked up in a softball game which ended up in the fathers' hands.

Barlow, Stanford Inventor, to Seek Senate Quiz, President's Impeachment

Stamford, Conn., July 30 (AP).—Lester P. Barlow, Stamford inventor, informed he would be prosecuted on charges of violating the National Labor Relations Act, threatened today to demand a Senate inquiry and seek impeachment of President Roosevelt.

Louis Y. Gaberman, assistant federal district attorney, announced last night he would prosecute Barlow, one time Connecticut leader of Huey Long's "share the wealth" movement as a result of the inventor's outburst at a National Labor Relations Board hearing.

Barlow accused the board of radicalism, charged the proceedings were a "racket," and invited Trial Examiner Paul Davies to "tell the President of the United States for me to go to hell."

Gaberman said Barlow would be prosecuted under a section of the

EVEN IN WAR, STOMACH'S NOT FORGOTTEN

Japanese troops, busy as they are in their unofficial war in the North China area, take time out for lunch in a field near Lukowchia, where the first clash of the conflict occurred. Japanese bombing planes swooped over the city of Tientsin, China, took a toll declared by Chinese to be thousands of non-combatant men, women and children killed and injured.

Secret War Plan Is Presented To Emperor Hirohito

Tokyo, July 30 (AP).—Premier Prince Fumimaro Konoye told the Japanese diet today the government might be compelled to ask "further cooperation of the Japanese people" in the North China hostilities.

Although his statement was preceded by a declaration that all hope for a peaceful settlement had not been abandoned, the cabinet decided on a series of "second steps" in the undeclared war.

The secret plan was presented to Emperor Hirohito for approval. The diet also heard one of its leading members ask to what extent Soviet Russia was connected with the Chinese government in the crisis.

Foreign Minister Koki Hirohito replied that the extent of Soviet influence could not be determined. Whatever hopes of peace may exist, Japan continued to send unending columns of reinforcements to the trouble area. Nippon's war power was being mobilized throughout the empire.

Because of congestion at railroad stations from troop movements, officials were forced to suspend the sale of tickets permitting public access to station platforms.

Army officials apparently believed it would take a long time for Japan to wrest from China by force what diplomacy failed to achieve—settlement of all major Chinese-Japanese issues.

Every village and town furnishing troop reinforcements was gaily decorated with rising sun flags and triumphal evergreen arches. Every home providing recruits was embellished with festoons, garlands and patriotic banners.

Receives No Replies But Knows The Reason

Faith!

A few days ago an elderly, neat appearing gentleman appeared at the Ulster Freeman Office and announced that he had placed a want ad in the Freeman and had received no replies. "But," he added, "I didn't expect any because my little granddaughter, who stays with me, loves my lawn and each evening she prayed that no one would answer the ad offering it for sale."

The elderly man however has faith too in The Freeman because he announced that, "Today my granddaughter left the farm to visit with relatives. Say will you run that ad again three times?"

Cordts, Enrolled Republican, May Oppose Heiselman

With the Democratic city convention next Monday evening the leaders of local Democracy are having a difficult time to obtain candidates to fill out the ticket. Several prominent Democrats have been mentioned within the past week or so, but all of them, it is said, have declined to run. Without a candidate within their own ranks the Democratic leaders are said to be casting eyes over to the Republican side of the fence, and the latest rumor is that he is persistently circulated is that if the Democratic party does not endorse Mayor C. J. Heiselman for mayor that they will try and induce another Republican, John N. Cordts, to accept the Democratic nomination. Efforts were made to contact Mr. Cordts without success to obtain a statement from him.

Mr. Cordts is one of the younger business men of the city, and is an enrolled Republican. During the Carey administration he was appointed by Mayor Carey as one of the Republican members of the police board, which office he held for some years. He is a son of the late Senator John N. Cordts, who for many years was one of the leaders of the Republican party in Ulster county.

Several candidates have been mentioned for alderman-at-large in case the Democrats decide not to endorse Alderman John J. Schwenk. Among those mentioned are Sam N. Mann, who has long been active in the Democratic party councils, and Dr. Samuel Stern. Dr. Stern is a former president of the Board of Charity Commissioners long before it became known as the Board of Public Welfare, holding the office of head of the board during the Irwin administration.

Was Manager of Cycle Trades
Bronxville, N. Y., July 30 (AP).—L. N. He had been manager of the cycling organization ten years, coming to New York from Springfield, Mass.

Record Public Debt
Washington, July 30 (AP).—The public debt increased $50,072,511 on July 28 to a new record of $36,707,757,744. The Treasury said today the increase was caused by an issue of discount bills to put new cash in its working balance.

Charles Ferro Shot Down At Zena; John Miller Is Alleged To Have Fired Gun

Wooden Pulley Is Blamed as Weapon For Skull Fracture

With his skull terribly smashed on one side, as the result of being struck with a heavy wooden pulley, 10-year-old John Sullivan, whose home is at 506 West 122d Street, New York city, lies in the Kingston Hospital, his condition this morning being reported as very serious.

The lad, whose widowed mother is Mrs. Ellen Sullivan, of New York city, has been spending the vacation since July Fourth at the farm of Joseph Browne, at Marlborough, where the accident which caused his injury occurred about five o'clock Thursday afternoon, while he was being hoisted into the mow at the Browne barn.

The Sullivan boy was sitting on a ladder which was standing near the bay into which the hay was being stored, the unloading operations being in charge of Mr. Browne and two helpers, Edward Grove and Howard Embrey, of Stone Ridge. Not far from where the boy sat the long rope attached to the hay fork ran through a wooden pulley which weighs perhaps 10 pounds, or more, and which was fastened to a beam. Suddenly the pulley broke from its fastening and the heavy pulley swung through the air and struck the boy on the side of his head, knocking him into the hay mow.

Brain Exposed
The badly injured boy was lowered to the floor of the barn and Browne and Grove halted a passing car and brought him to the Kingston Hospital, where Drs. Joseph Jacobson and Kenneth H. LeFever did all that had been wrought by the crushing blow to repair the injury that had been done to the boy's head.

The sheriff's office was notified of the accident shortly after its occurrence and Deputies Vredenburg, Brown and Reynolds went to the Browne farm and made an investigation. Sheriff Molyneux also notified Mr. Sullivan, in New York, of the injury of his son.

6,000 Cars a Day
Ford's plants at present are shut down for the annual inventory. He plans to reopen them on August 9 and put assembly lines on a production schedule of 6,000 cars a day. Thus, barring labor interruptions, the volume of output for the current calendar year will run well above the million unit mark. To date output has totaled approximately 870,000 cars and trucks.

Ford has not explained why he decided against spending his birthday at Huron Mountain as has been his habit for years. Some persons close to him ventured the opinion it was because of the fight he is making against the United Automobile Workers of America which seeks to unionize his 150,000 employees.

Shooting Took Place at the Home of Mrs. Elizabeth Frances Oats, near Zena, at an early hour this morning. Charles Ferro, 48, whose address is given as Milton, is at the Kingston Hospital in a serious condition. He is suffering from a gunshot wound, the charge penetrating the right leg below the knee and shattering the bones of the leg. He is also weak from extensive loss of blood.

John Miller, of Woodstock R. D., who is alleged to have done the shooting, is being held at the sheriff's office for questioning and pending the outcome of Ferro's injury and the filing of charges.

According to a statement made by Mrs. Oats, whose farm and home are located on a dirt road leading from Zena to Shults Corners, the shooting took place some time after 12:30 this morning. Mrs. Oats, who said that she had known Miller for several years and that he had been at her home for about 10 days recently, stated that she was awakened about 12:30 by the blowing of an auto horn as she lay asleep in a front room on the ground floor of her house. She got up, went to her kitchen window, which looks out upon a summer kitchen, and saw Charles Ferro standing upon a small concrete porch outside the summer kitchen. He asked for John Miller. She told him, according to her statement, that Miller was not there. Ferro is said to have replied that he knew Miller was there and that he would not leave until he saw him.

Mrs. Oats states that she heard other people talking outside, that she became nervous, went upstairs and awakened Miller, who at first said he would not come down.

Saw Revolver
Coming back downstairs, Mrs. Oats said she told Ferro, "If you don't go I will shoot you," and he replied that he "would shoot first," that he "had a better gun." She claims that she saw a revolver in Ferro's hand.

By this time, according to the story, Miller had come downstairs and is alleged to have said that unless Ferro left he would "give him the works."

Mrs. Oats claims that she went back to her bedroom, which faces the porch, perhaps 12 feet away, on which Ferro was standing; that Miller followed her, told her to get away from the window and then fired a shot at Ferro from a 12 gauge single-barrel shotgun which he had taken down from its position over the door which leads from the kitchen to the summer kitchen.

Following the shot she heard Ferro cry, "Oh, oh," as the charge entered his leg and he fell to the ground.

After the shooting Mrs. Oats says that Miller and she entered their car and drove to the West New York Hotel at Shults Corners, from which place they telephoned to Trooper Arthur Reilly. She adds that they then returned to her home and noted that Ferro was lying on the ground at the entrance to the driveway leading to the house, which is perhaps 200 feet from the place where the shooting is alleged to have taken place.

Barely Conscious
Trooper Reilly, accompanied by Troopers Kiker and McGranahan, immediately went to the scene of the shooting. They found Ferro lying upon the ground near the entrance to the driveway. He was barely conscious, had lost a great deal of blood and his clothing was badly torn from dragging himself over the rough ground to the place where he was found. He was unable to talk, but was moaning and groaning in pain.

Trooper Reilly drove back to Shults Corners, the nearest telephone, and called up the W. N. Conner ambulance. He also called Dr. George W. Bassow of Woodstock, who came and gave first aid treatment to Ferro, applying a tourniquet to stop further bleeding from the gaping wound in the leg. Ferro was then taken to the Kingston Hospital, where he was attended by Dr. Snyder and Dr. Krum.

Investigators Metzger and Mahoney of the B. C. I. of the State Police were notified and began an immediate investigation of the affair. Sheriff Molyneux was also notified and with Deputies Clayton Vredenburg and Arthur Brown went to the Oats home and made an investigation which in-

HENRY FORD

Detroit, July 30 (AP).—Henry Ford is 74 years old today. Seemingly in the best of physical condition, he looks 60 and belies his years by still indulging in bicycling and running.

Ford, who was nearly 10 years old when he organized the present Ford Motor Company, has no intention of retiring. He surrendered the presidency of the company to his son, Edsel, more than a decade ago, but he continues as the guiding spirit of the great industrial empire that bears his name.

As usual, there was no birthday celebration for Ford today. It differed from other birthday anniversaries chiefly in the fact that it found him in his home office rather than at his lodge in the Huron mountains on the upper Michigan shore of Lake Superior.

Ford attributes his splendid physical condition to the fact that he "keeps active and interested in things."

"If somebody didn't mention it," he said, "I probably would forget I had a birthday coming. If you eat right, sleep right, work right, the passing of the years makes little impression on your feelings."

Somebody asked the manufacturer if he wanted to live as long as John D. Rockefeller. "I was asked that question not long ago," he replied, "and I replied that I want to be around as long as I am useful."

Ford's plants at present are shut down for the annual inventory. He plans to reopen them on August 9 and put assembly lines on a production schedule of 6,000 cars a day. Thus, barring labor interruptions, the volume of output for the current calendar year will run well above the million unit mark. To date output has totaled approximately 870,000 cars and trucks.

Martin Makes Move to Escape Chair, Claims Letter Written by Dead Woman

New York, July 30 (AP).—In a dramatic move to escape possible death in the electric chair, Stanley A. Martin, Jr., 29-year-old confessed strangler, today insisted that a 5 word farewell note was written by the woman he allegedly killed "because she asked me to."

The note, which was found pasted on the windshield of the automobile in which Martin garroted Mrs. Florence Jackson, 37, mother of three children, read: "Dear God—you will understand."

Reversing a previous understanding that he had written the note himself, preliminary to carrying out his own self-destruction in a double suicide pact, Martin today declared:

"She wrote it. I didn't do it. It proves she agreed that I should kill her. That it was the only way out for us, and that we were to die together. But I didn't have the nerve to kill myself."

Queens county authorities immediately sent the note to handwriting experts to determine the authorship.

"If the experts decide the handwriting is Martin's and not Mrs. Jackson's, very little will be left of the suicide pact story," said Assistant District Attorney Shapiro.

Martin, entering a formal plea of not guilty, was arraigned on a homicide charge yesterday and held without bail pending action by the grand jury. He told police he strangled Mrs. Jackson Tuesday with a red leather belt from her dress and then intended to take his own life by driving the car over the side of a bridge.

MRS. OATS TALKS Says Ferro Came to Her Home Looking for Miller and Then Shooting Followed.

Scully Guilty Of Drunken Driving

Justice of the Peace Walter Webber of Lake Katrine sentenced James Scully of Hurley to 15 days in the Ulster county jail and imposed a fine of $50 when a jury last night took less than 10 minutes to return a verdict of guilty of driving while intoxicated against the defendant.

Last Friday evening a jury had disagreed on the case and it was necessary to postpone the proceedings until a new jury could be drawn.

Scully was involved in an automobile crash on the Kingston-Hurley road on May 27, which damaged three cars and seriously injured Mrs. H. A. Ireland, wife of an engineer employed on the New York city water project. The third car in the accident was that of D. Roy Van Etten of Kerhonkson. James Scully was arrested following this crash.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Ireland, Minnie Brooks, D. Roy Van Etten, Dr. Harry P. Van Wageningen, and Deputy Sheriff Vredenburg, Winne and Reynolds appeared for the People, with Frank Campochiaro representing their case, while James Scully and Frank Campochiaro of the Hurley Hotel appeared as witnesses for the defense, with Francis T. Murray representing the defendant's case.

Mrs. Annie Stratton and daughter and her husband, Mrs. Josephine Schoonmaker of Poughkeepsie and Mr. Slater and Grace Happy and nephew of Ulster Park were recent callers on Mr. and Mrs. Peter Moose.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Rothe called on Mr. and Mrs. William A. Wolven and son, Edson, Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Myer and mother, Mrs. Annie Myer of Kingston called on Mr. and Mrs. Harry Freilich on Sunday evening. A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Myer at the Benedictine Hospital, Kingston, Sunday morning.

Callers on Mr. and Mrs. Peter Moose on Sunday were their children, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Moose, Mr. and Mrs. Adelbert Whitney, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Freilich of Saugerties, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard White of Quarryville and their nephew, Rennie Schoonmaker, and son from Elka Park.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Donald Becker on Monday morning. Mrs. Clearwater of Catskill is caring for mother and baby.

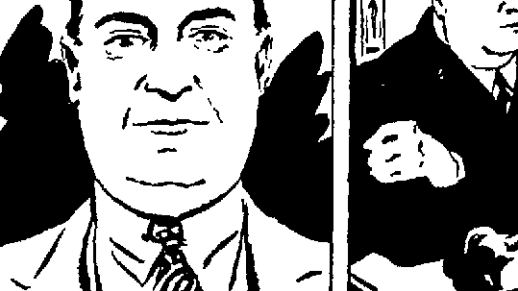

Can You Solve This Mystery?

By The (A) Feature Service
Just seven years ago Justice F. Crater of the New York Supreme Court mysteriously disappeared. Where he went and why, whether he is today alive or dead, no one knows.

The following sketches tell his story. If you can find among them the clue to his true story, mystery, then you're a better detective than any of the sleuths who have worked on the case since 1930.

But you'd better act quickly.

Under New York law a person who has been missing seven years can be adjudged legally dead. And even now Judge Crater's wife is preparing to ask the courts to declare her a widow.

1. Ten years ago Joseph Force Crater was one of New York's most brilliant young lawyers. He also found time to lecture in law schools and, his wife says, had an offer to become dean of one.

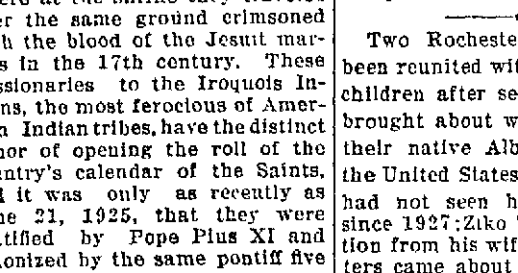

2. He got into politics through Tammany Hall and considered himself a protégé of U. S. Senator Robert Wagner. At 41 he was appointed by Gov. Franklin Roosevelt to New York's Supreme Court.

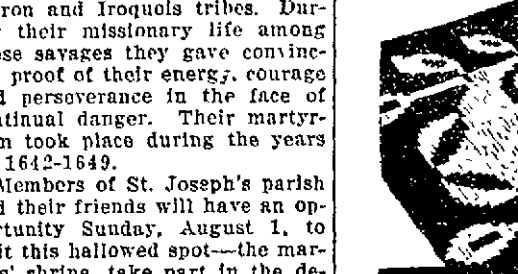

3. A man of many facets, he liked to doff his black robes and play among the Broadway night spots. There, some said, he gathered material for mystery stories which he wrote as a hobby.

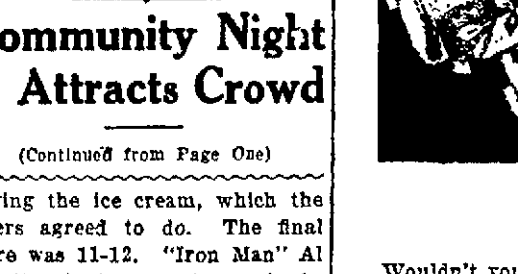

4. On August 2, 1930, Judge Crater said goodbye to his wife at their estate in Maine and left for New York. She didn't know it then, but Stella Crater was never again to see her husband.

5. Friends saw Judge Crater around New York for a few days after that. On August 4 he worked in his judicial chambers. On the evening of August 5 he dined with a party in a Times Square restaurant.

6. Leaving the restaurant, he hailed a taxi, waved goodnight to his friends—and hasn't been seen since. A detective later said the cab was a "cyp" taxi, perhaps in league with holdup men.

7. On January 22, 1931, Mrs. Crater found in their Fifth Avenue apartment a check from her husband—dated August 30, three weeks after his disappearance. And a note: "I am very weary. Love, Joe."

Here are the clues in the famous Crater Case—the unexplained disappearance of the New York supreme court justice who dropped from sight at the height of a spectacular political and legal career.

cluded pictures of the house and the interior.

Sheriff Molyneux also notified District Attorney Cleon B. Murray at Ellenville.

Liborio Vincent Antinucci, of West Hurley, who claimed to have been with Ferro earlier in the evening, was questioned this morning and said that he started out about one o'clock to take a drive with Ferro, who told him that he was going to see John Miller at Mrs. Oats. He states that they were accompanied by Mike DeAndre, who left them when they reached his home on the Zena road. Antinucci says that when they arrived at the Oats home Ferro knocked on the door and then blew the auto horn. He saw Mrs. Oats come to the door and heard her talking with Ferro, but about that time he went to sleep and according to his story did not wake up until the arrival of the troopers. Antinucci claims that he did not hear a shot at any time during the night and that there were no other persons present outside the Oats home, with the exception of Ferro and himself.

St. Joseph's Picnic And Pilgrimage

The outing of St. Joseph's Church, sponsored by the Holy Name Society, to the Shrine of the Martyrs at Aurlesville, has taken real shape and a goodly number have made the necessary bookings for the pilgrimage.

All through the summer months large numbers of pilgrims from all parts of the country find their way to Aurlesville, where at the shrine they traverse over the same ground crimsoned with the blood of the Jesuit martyrs in the 17th century. These missionaries to the Iroquois Indians, the most ferocious of American Indian tribes, have the distinct honor of opening the roll of the country's calendar of the Saints, and it was only as recently as June 21, 1925, that they were beatified by Pope Plus XI and canonized by the same pontiff five years later.

Father Isaac Jogues and his companions were born in France and went as missionaries to North America, devoting themselves to the superhuman task of evangelizing the Indians, especially the Huron and Iroquois tribes. During their missionary life among these savages they gave convincing proof of their energy, courage and perseverance in the face of continual danger. Their martyrdom took place during the years of 1642-1649.

Members of St. Joseph's parish and their friends will have an opportunity Sunday, August 1, to visit this hallowed spot—the martyrs' shrine, take part in the devotions and at the same time enjoy a real day's outing.

Reservations for the busses should be made in advance. Busses leave from school hall at 10:45 a. m.

buying the ice cream, which the losers agreed to do. The final score was 11-12. "Iron Man" Al Vogel's winning streak was broken as last minute hopes faded when the youngsters let loose with a barrage of hits and fancy fielding. Alderman Al had hoped to extend his winning streak to 13 straight but failed as the sons ruled the diamond.

For the first time this season Vogel was forced to leave the ball game before the finish. A hot grounder down the pitcher's box caught Al on his knee and put

By coincidence, the National Labor Relations Board was winding up today, a hearing that has continued for four weeks on charges that the Ford Company violated the Wagner Labor Act. Except for one reference by a Ford spokesman to the NLRB as a "traveling court of inquisition," Ford has let his lawyers do all the talking for his company in this case.

Rug, Scarf and Towel Set to Make for Summer

PATTERN 5752

Wouldn't your bathroom be a brighter spot with the addition of a colorful two-tone rug and matching towel border? Choose gay rags, rug yarn, or candlewicking for this stunning rug with flower motif—and inexpensive string for a matching towel, or if it's a "throw" rug for your bedroom that you need, you can make it with a matching scarf. In pattern 5752 you will find complete instructions and charts for making the rug, towel band and flared scarf; an illustration of them and of the stitches used; material requirements; color suggestions.

To obtain this pattern send 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred) to the Kingston Daily Freeman, Household Arts Dept., 259 W. 14th street, New York, N. Y. Be sure to write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS and PATTERN NUMBER.

Stay Home Camp Held Campfire

The T. W. C. A. Stay-at-home Camp closed its three-week period on Wednesday evening with an Indian campfire ceremonial, held on the grounds of the New York State Armory. At dusk following the picnic supper around the fire, parents and guests also assembled and were privileged to observe the children's program.

The camp theme was built around the story of Hiawatha and all campers were garbed as Indian maidens. They represented four tribes and at the signal of the tom-tom, they came from various parts of the grounds and formed a circle about the fire. Marilyn Beichert had been chosen to be the "big chief" and she performed the fire-lighting ceremony, while the fire-lighting were Amy Lou the tribe chiefs. Helen Connor, Betty Milonig, Helen Hansen, Jane Herdman, Kath Herdman, Mary Joyce, Helen Larkin, Alberta Loughran, Anne MacConnell, Amy Lou Milonig, Betty Murphy, Rose Mary Murphy, Mary Louise Oxholm, Mary Pheasant, Ellen Reylea, Edna Shelley, Marcia Stone, Betty Wheeler, Kathryn Whelan, Janet Wiesner, Beth Winters, Miss Lillian Herdman and Miss Jean Estey of the "Y" staff were directors of the camp. The camp was assisted by Miss Otilia Riccibono, dancing instructor, and Mrs. Ann Herzog Olson, dramatics instructor. High school girls who acted as junior councilors were Misses Virginia Luedtke, Eleanor Franz, Ruth Brinnier, Ruth Britt, Jean Wright, Betty Gill, Jean DuBois, Priscilla Nolan, Elizabeth Schoonmaker, Mary Krenzkoskie, Ruth MacCausland, Rose Helen Meller.

Mrs. Raymond Rignall was chairman of the camp committee and the following mothers and friends transported the children to and from the lake: Mrs. Frederic Holcomb, Mrs. Cornelius Treadwell, Mrs. John B. Sterley, Mrs. Alva Staples, Mrs. A. Noble Graham, Mrs. Roger Loughran, Mrs. Theodore Oxholm, Mrs. M. Donald Lane, Mrs. Robert Whalen, Mrs. William Finch, Mrs. J. R. Freese, Mrs. R. M. Cooper, Mrs. Arthur H. Russell, Miss Ruth Brinnier.

ASHOKAN
Ashokan, July 29.—Miss Gertrude Secor of New York city spent the week-end at her home on Mountain Road.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hyser drove to Hunter Sunday and took her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Eckert, to North Lake on a picnic.

Clayton Brower of Kingston and Charles Faulkner of Olive Bridge are at the Woodland Camp.

John J. Secor and family spent Sunday at Lake Mohonk with his daughter, Celeste.

The funeral of Mrs. Alonso Haver held in the Samsenville Church Sunday was largely attended by many friends and relatives.

The funeral of Mrs. Jane Gulnic held at her residence in Ashokan on Monday was attended by her many relatives and friends.

Lester Van Kleeck of Samsenville was a business caller here Tuesday.

Miss Virginia Bell, daughter of Justin Bell, of Hurley, is spending her vacation with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Bell, also with her grandmother, Mrs. Mary Marshall, of Olive Bridge.

Mrs. Chester A. Lyons and daughter, Margaret Dorothy, and sister, Miss Marjorie Davis, visited Kingston Tuesday.

MT. MARION.
Mt. Marion, July 29.—Mrs. John Kothe and son, Louis, and Mrs. Shab of Brooklyn and Mrs. Kora and daughter, Virginia, of Forest Hills, L. I., were callers at the home of Mrs. Augusta Werner on Tuesday.

George Flowers, Sr., and son, George, of White Plains, called on old friends and neighbors here Tuesday.

Miss Virginia Hoslom of Richmond Hill, L. I., is visiting Mr. and Mrs. John Plass.

Mrs. Clarence Main and daughter, Ray, of Hudson, spent Sunday with her sister, Mrs. Frank Osterhout.

Mrs. J. F. Westrich of St. Albans, L. I., spent last week with Mr. and Mrs. Abram Bogert.

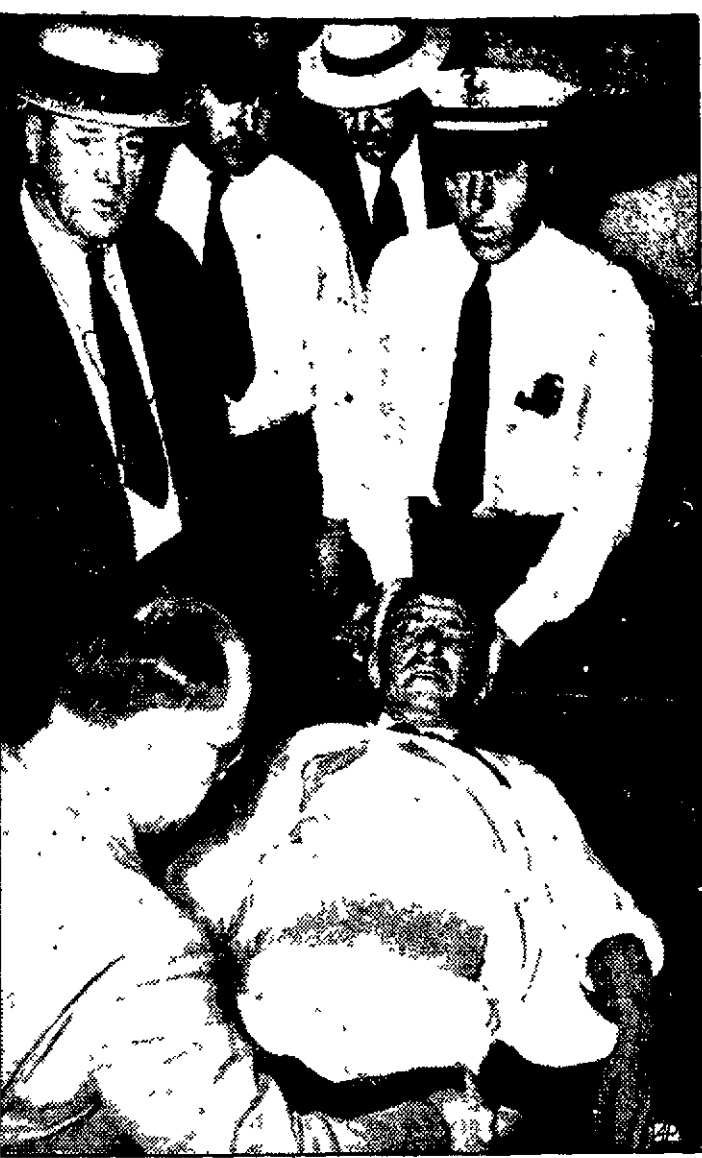

The Rev. Clayton J. Potter of Schenectady has accepted the call of the Plattkill Reformed Church in Mt. Marion and will take up his charge here in October or November.

There will be no church in Mt. Marion on Sunday, August 1. On the following Sunday, August 8, there will be services as usual.

Many pieces of corn were laid flat, trees uprooted and several windows broken by the wind and hail which accompanied the terrible storm which hit Mt. Marion on Saturday.

WOUNDED, ADMITS HOLDUP SLAYING

Writing in pain, Frank Grabowski, 40, is shown being attended by a physician after police arrested him for the holdup-murder of Anthony Ruggeri, a grocer, and the wounding of a policeman in Greenfield, Mass. Detective Sergeant James J. Burns (left), said Grabowski, twice-paroled slayer, admitted the holdup-shooting. Patrolman J. Richard Laurie, who was shot in the lower jaw, left arm and chest by the ex-convict, was in a critical condition with doctors holding scant hope for his recovery. Grabowski was arraigned on a charge of murder.

LIVE BUSINESS MEN ADVERTISE IN THE FREEMAN

FLASHES OF LIFE SKETCHED IN BRIEF

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ran Too Soon
Burlington, N. C.—Mack Leath, brought before Mayor Earl B. Horner on a speeding charge, heard Horner say, "I am going to give you 30 days on the roads."

The defendant dashed for an open door with several policemen in hot pursuit after a chase of several blocks, Leath was back in court.

The Mayor resumed where he had left off: "—sentence suspended upon payment of the costs."

Help Wanted: Female
New York—Mayor Fiorella LaGuardia wants a little feminine aid in managing New York city.

"We can use quite a few women down at city hall," he said, urging more women to become candidates for public office.

"I don't know how good you'll be, but you'll be better than what we've got there now. There is nothing difficult about government. Politicians only try to make it appear so."

That Man Again
Denver—It's a small world, Fred Everhart reflected—almost too small for him and Jesse Galla.

While Everhart was walking home, Galla's police dog dashed out and bit him on both legs. Everhart went home, got in his car, started for the police station to report the incident.

He tangled with another car. Out climbed Galla.

Snatched Bald-Headed
Spokane, Wash.—The train stopped in Glacier National Park.

P. Wiegand, of Buffalo, N. Y., leaned out the window to watch the antics of a big black bear.

"Swish!" went the bear's paw. Off came Wiegand's hat—and hair.

The latter, fortunately for Wiegand, was a toupee.

John Henry Lott caught a 42-inch alligator in Troy, Ala. recently to become the section's first successful 'gator hunter of '37.

PORT EWEN

Port Ewen, July 30.—Mr. and Mrs. Howard Murdoch and Mr. and Mrs. William Webster are enjoying a motor trip through the New England states.

Miss Evelyn Flohn has returned to her home in Brooklyn after spending a few weeks here with her friend, Miss Edith Schweigel.

A. E. Stadt, who spent his vacation at the home of his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Stadt, has returned to his home in Brooklyn accompanied by his wife who spent the past two months at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stadt.

Sunday morning service will be held in the Reformed Church with the Rev. J. Thoburn Legg, preaching.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Muller, and son, Roger, of Woodcliff, N. J., were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Schweigel at their camp on the River Road.

Raymond Semon spent the week-end at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Semon.

Mrs. Robert Doyle, and daughter, Alma, and son, Matthew, are visiting relatives in Arkville.

Friends are pleased to know that the Rev. Philip Goertz is convalescing nicely after his recent tonsil operation.

The girls of Mrs. Scott Vining's Sunday School class are receiving donations for the mystery booth at the August 5 festival.

The committee in charge of the fancy article booth for the Dorcas Society's festival, August 5, would be very glad to receive donations from the Reformed Church congregation and friends.

The following are on the committee: Mrs. Floyd Ellsworth, Mrs. William Yesse, Mrs. Frank White, Mrs. Clark Bonesteel, Miss Ella Jones and Mrs. Scott Vining.

Gone With the Wind
San Francisco—Chinatown wedding bells five years ago ended in Dong vs. Dong in divorce court.

Mrs. Christina Dong won an interlocutory decree from Dr. H. Cullin Dong. She charged cruelty.

KINGSTON, N. Y., JULY 30, 1937

SOCIAL DRINKING

A professor in New York University, questioning more than 2,000 young men and women about their attitude toward alcoholic liquor, develops these facts:
 Young women drink less regularly, and in less quantity, than young men. They incline more to mixed drinks than straight liquor.
 They drink less in bars and restaurants than the men do, and are likely to drink not so much because they like it as because others do. They have increased their drinking, however, in the last couple of years, more than have the young men. Half of the young people say they don't like the taste of hard liquor. Most of them disapprove of bars, as promoting excessive drinking.

So what? Nothing very clear, perhaps, except the fact, already observed, that women drink a good deal more liquor than they used to. Why do they? They say, "because others do," and "because it makes people gayer and more interesting."

BARGAINS IN SPAIN

This would be a wonderful time to go shopping in Spain. A correspondent tells of prices like these in Barcelona and Valencia:
 A fine tailor-made suit, of the best English woolen cloth, $1 to $5; beautiful silk neckties, 8 to 10 cents; silk socks, 6 cents a pair; women's silk dresses, $2; leather suitcases, 90 cents; leather handbags, 20 cents; hotel room with three meals, 50 cents to $1 a day; fancy drinks, 4 to 6 cents; extremely fancy meat, with lobster and several varieties of delicious Spanish fish, washed down with a noble bottle of 30-year-old Spanish Burgundy, 75 cents.

And then hats! Spaniards have always gloried in their sombreros, and used to spend huge sums on them. Now nobody there wears a hat any more. For a while they were shooting hat-wearers. You can buy the finest hats in Spain for 50 cents, and can have the ordinary kind for nothing.

The merchants naturally are ruined. The prices are so low because it's all the Spanish people nowadays can pay. That's what happens, in spite of war—which usually boosts prices—when salaries and wages are leveled by law, everybody getting $4 a week.
 Not only is Spanish manhood being destroyed, Spain is destroying and giving away her wealth.

REALITY.

An article said to have been written by Premier Mussolini, in his newspaper, "The Italian People," takes a slap at some "international fictions" and sings the praises of "reality" in international thinking. Reality, he says, with a side glance at Uncle Sam, will wipe out such foolishness as belief in the collection of war debts. Reality will destroy all "houses of cards," and it has "a single brave name for which there is no substitute." He obviously means "war." And he hints that it will wipe out democracies as well as foreign debts.

Well, if Duce may have a glint coming as far as the war debts are concerned. Plenty of realists Americans are convinced by this time that there's no use crying over spilled billions. They comfort themselves, though, with the reflection that if those war debts were paid, we'd doubtless empty our pockets again for Europe's benefit in the next big war; whereas now we'll stand pat on our present losses and let warring nations stew in their own bankruptcy.

CROW MEAT.

Crow as a game bird may now be regarded as established in this country. The booklet of crow recipes printed by the Federal Department of Agriculture has a large and growing distribution.

 According to Col. H. P. Sheldon, of the biological survey bureau, people are accepting crow as a national dish.

Sometimes the bird is distinguished as "Colorado Rooster." But usually it is simply set down on the menu as "Jim Crow" or "Old Black Crow." Most people don't like the idea of it, at first, having been prejudiced perhaps by the old expression, "eating crow," as a mark of humiliation, or expression of distaste. It isn't humiliating at all, says Col. Sheldon.
 It's smart, because it tastes good and is as nourishing as any other game bird.

Nevertheless, diplomacy is advised in serving crow for the first time to one's family or guests.
 Don't tell them what it is. Serve it without comment and wait for the reaction. People who don't know what they're eating are said to like it invariably if it's well prepared. If they know what it is, prejudice or imagination may interfere with honest judgment.

ARTHRITIS-RHEUMATISM

It has been my "privilege" to have had four attacks of arthritis or inflammation of a joint, often called rheumatism.

The first attack was due to an injury in "braking" a car going down a steep hill; strapping with adhesive and the wearing of a supporting brace for four years corrected this.

The second attack was due to an infected tooth which when removed relieved the pain within forty-eight hours.

The third attack was due to an infected tonsil; the removal of the tonsils relieved the pain within 24 hours and the use of a galvanic battery for one minute every day for thirty days brought back complete strength to the leg, correcting the "foot drop" that had been present.

The fourth attack was due to another infected tooth which the X-ray showed to be just "doubtful." The removal of the tooth brought relief within ten days.
 I've had no arthritis or rheumatism since that time—more than fifteen years ago.

You can readily understand then why I write so much about infected teeth and tonsils as being a very frequent cause of arthritis.

Dr. Ralph Pemberton, Philadelphia, who has done so much work on arthritis, tells us in an article in the "Medical Review" that certain types of individuals are more likely to contract arthritis, there are also special or specific causes:
 "Fatigue, bad posture at work, mental worry, exposure to wet and cold, and a generally rundown condition tend to bring on arthritis. The 'immediate' factors in an attack are frequently found in an acute illness such as influenza and cold, and even more frequently perhaps in some form of chronic infection such as may exist in the root of a tooth, in diseased tonsils, or in infection of the kidneys, bladder, and generative organs."

FLAME TRAIL

BY MARIE DE NERVAUD

It was an hour later before Joe Crandon decided to rebuild her burned ranch house and born, though neighbor Josh Hastings, whom she hates, wants to buy her ranch and marry Kay. Ted Gaylor, a puncher she impulsively hired, fights Scrap Johnson, a cowboy who molested Kay. They shoot it out, wounding each other. Hastings sneaks up and kills Scrap Johnson. Ted's gun. Ted crawls to a cabin where a girl (Marion) nurses him. A week later the sheriff arrests him on a tip unconsciously given by Kay. Ted's trial for murder at Clear Water Basin is going against him without a witness in his behalf.

Chapter 39

Ted's Defense

THERE remained for today only Ted's story to be told, and then the verdict. Ted had elected to conduct his own defense, in the certainty that his straightforward story would make more impression than anyone else's presentation of the facts.

But now as he thought over yesterday's proceedings with the cards stacked against him, this way, he wasn't so sure. He pulled out the heartbroken little note from his mother and sister that the sheriff had allowed him to receive, and read it for the hundredth time.
 Their touching confidence in his innocence was comforting, and, at least for the time being, they were being cared for by some neighbors.

Pushing away the thought of what would happen to them if he was convicted, Ted wondered what had become of Marion. He had been uneasy about her, because he had a hunch that there was something tragic about her father that she hadn't told him. And when they had announced in court yesterday that she couldn't come to testify because of the illness of her father, he had felt a presentiment that something was very wrong.

As Ted pondered bitterly on his inability to help anyone, the deputy sheriff arrived with his breakfast. He brought it in, announcing with a grin that a lady was outside and wanted to see him.

"A lady?" Ted looked up eagerly.
 "Perhaps Marion had come after all!"

"Yeah, Sam Cutter said she could see you for five minutes. He always is partial to red heads."

"Red heads!" Ted echoed, his heart beating suffocatingly against his ribs. "You mean—"

"Kay Crandon's her name, and she's coming back in half an hour," he answered.

Blood surged into Ted's face, and he gripped the iron cot until his knuckles showed white in his deeply tanned hands.

Tell her I'm not seeing anyone,
 Joe said gruffly after a long pause.

Joe gazed at him in open-mouthed stupefaction. "Hell! bells!" Why not? She's some looker, and she sure seems anxious about you. You'd better see what she has to say."

"I'm not going to see her, do you hear me?" Ted turned so fiercely on him that Joe jumped.

"All right, all right," he soothed.
 "Have it your own way."

He went out and locked the door, leaving Ted to the tumultuous thoughts and emotions that coursed through him.

Kay's unexpected appearance on the scene proved how little he had succeeded in putting her out of his mind, in spite of his determination to do so. He longed with all his being to see her, but the galling thought that she was the one who was responsible for his being there at all, steeled him against her.

Nothing she could say could atone for that damaging fact, and it would be folly to let himself be stirred up at this time by seeing her again.

If ever he needed all his self control and wit, he needed them now, when he was fighting for his life. There was no place for Kay Crandon in the picture today!

He forced his mind away from Kay, and concentrated on his story, going over it from every angle to be sure it was straight and unshakable.

But His Eyes Seek Kay

LOST in deep thought, he failed to hear Joe's footsteps again in the corridor, and only looked up at the sound of his name, to see Joe sticking a folded piece of paper through the door.

"She said to give you that," he said. "Seems kind of upset at not seeing you. Hadn't you better change your mind?"

"No!" Ted thundered, looking up at him without moving. "And I don't want any notes, either. Take it back to her!"

"I kind of hate to do that," he said. "She'll be mad if you don't.
 What's got into you to be so ornery?"

"Clear out!" Ted snapped. "And don't come back until it's time for me to go to the trial!"

With a perplexed shake of the head, Joe complied without further comment, and Ted was left again to the solitude he demanded.

ZENA

Zena, July 29.—The Church
 Circle of the Local Reformed Church has set Wednesday, August 11, as the day for its annual fair and chicken supper.

The ladies have promised to give further particulars at a later date.

Mr. and Mrs. William McTigue and son, William, of New Jersey, spent the week-end at their home here.

The Misses Nellie and Carrie Coughlin of Newburgh were at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Coughlin, for the week-end.

Albert Holmstrom and Miss Ruth Carle of Kingston visited Howe Caverns on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Russek from New Jersey, who were spending the week-end in Woodstock, called at Danolga Acres on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clark Sherman, their son, Robert, and daughter, Eleanor, have returned to their home in New Jersey after spending a vacation at their summer home, the former Draffen homestead.

Henry Higgins of New York city spent the week-end at his cottage here.

Mrs. Hanoney of Long Island, with son, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mahoney, and their son, Joseph, also two granddaughters, Margaret and Gladys Reinhart, have rented the cottage on Danolga Acres and are enjoying a vacation there.

Frank Tichenor and Miss Anne Reinhold of Staten Island spent last week-end at Mr. Tichenor's farm on Chestnut Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Carr of Troy were recent guests at the home of Mrs. Carr's brother, John Carr.

Miss Julia Klementis has returned to her home after spending some time in Long Island.

Fred Thais of New York city visited his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Hibyan, during the past week-end.

BABSON ON BUSINESS

WHERE DO THE RAILS STAND
 Babson Says Outlook Depends on Labor.

Babson Park, Mass., July 30.
 —The railroads and the utilities
 —the nation's two largest industries—are in the "dog-house."

Despite huge gains in their volume of business and the Senate's supreme court action, rail stocks are no higher than a year ago, while utility equities are considerably cheaper. In one case business is above the 1931 level and in the other instance it is an all-time peak. Lower rates, higher taxes, heavier labor charges, and political badgering have offset much of the gain in volume and kept down the price of power and railroad securities.

Several weeks ago I discussed utility stocks and advised holding them for higher prices. Today I want to analyze the position of the American railroads—the large-est business enterprise in the entire world. Just as in the case of utilities, the rails are suffering not from bad business but from bad sentiment. Railroad security waters—even more than public utility stockholders—are the "forgotten" investors of today.

The only difference is that while power stockholders are being squeezed by politicians, carrier investors are being milked by labor.

Everyone Has Stake.

The railroad trouble has its roots, as the utility squabble has, in mismanagement in the past by bankers and lawyers. The industry had to be regulated to give the public a "square deal." As usual the pendulum swung too far and investors got a "raw deal." Yet, if all interested groups would now pull together most of the roads could be saved.

"All interested groups" includes not only rail investors, but also insurance policy holders, savings bank depositors and college students. Coal miners, steel workers and lumber-jacks as well as employees of the carriers are all affected. Retail merchants, housewives and motorists have a big stake in the railroads.

This industry is a vital artery in our economic life. A bankrupt railroad system could easily mean a bankrupt nation. That is why every reader should have a strong interest in seeing that the railroads get fair play. Public control of industry by a democracy can never be successful unless the voters are willing to study the issues. The railroads today are worried by the two major problems confronting the utilities, i. e., rising taxes and fixed rates for their services. But in addition, the carriers are saddled by the additional burden of a tremendous labor problem.

Four Black Marks.

Perhaps a brief summary of the pros and cons of the rail outlook will help readers. On the "anti" side are:

Powerful labor demands.
 Rising tax burdens.
 Straight-jacket of regulation.
 Eventual peak of traffic.

The labor angle at the moment is giving the industry the biggest headache. Workers are now asking for a 20 per cent wage increase, which would put the rail pay scale nearly 30 per cent above the 1929 level. Such an advance could throw the entire industry back into red ink with a loss of $300,000,000 or more. Had these wage rates been in effect last year, only 13 carriers would have operated at a profit. However, no one expects more than a 10 per cent boost—with a compromise at 5 per cent possible.

Taxes, of course, are another of the rails' major burdens. In 1920, 4.4 cents out of every rail dollar went directly for taxes.

 Last year the government gobbled up 8 cents with no end of an increase in sight. At the same time, carriers are not free to jump their rates nor to make ordinary operating economies to help offset this tremendous jack-ing-up of their labor and tax bills. The railroads are hobbled by a mass of useless and unfair regulations.

Long-Term Traffic Outlook.

For long-pull investors the report of the national resources committee is discouraging. They forecast that there will be no substantial gain for 20 to 25 years after the 1929 level of traffic is reached. This means that once the carriers have edged their way back to their 1929 traffic level their only alternative in offsetting fatter payrolls and outrageous tax bills is to reduce their number of employees and/or charge much more for handling freight. If granted by the ICC, rate increases would make the carriers more vulnerable to truck, bus, and barge competition.

There are, however, some "pros" in the picture. They are:
 Amazing recovery in traffic.
 Less severe competition.
 New spirit of management.
 Possibility of better rates.

Among these, the current traffic recovery is most important.
 Gross revenues in 1936 were $4,- 053,000,000. The 1937 figure promises to be in the neighborhood of $4,500,000,000. In 1929 the roads took in $3,279,000,000.
 The highest level of industrial output since 1929 and the best crops in years indicate that freight movement this October may top $600,000 cars weekly. Such a figure would be within 25 per cent of the 1929 level of loadings.
 This is the most optimistic factor in the picture today.

Watch Rates and Labor.

Federal and state motor carrier laws are now helping the roads to battle their competition. The new progressive spirit of management is another strong asset.
 Modern rolling stock, faster schedules and better service are helping to coax back lost traffic.

Furthermore, most of the new equipment is so much more efficient that the old that operating economies go a long way toward paying the bills for the new rolling stock. Finally, there is the strong possibility that the ICC will order some freight rate increases especially if rail labor gets its higher pay. Truck and ship competition would not benefit from these rate increases because the carriers are asking for advances only on the most non-competitive type of freight.

Right now the focal point for all railroad stockholders is the labor situation. If the carriers are now treated fairly as to wages, they are justified in holding their rail stocks. But, like most of the utility holding company stocks, dump them some time during this bull market. I do not believe in buying or holding, indefinitely, stocks in publicly-controlled industries!

 the human fly, climbed up the Governor Clinton Hotel this evening for the pleasure and astonishment of a large crowd of men, women and children.

Quinn Answers On Jurisdictions

Joseph F. Quinn, representative of the International Longshoremen's Association, responding to statements by other union officials that he had no authority to organize brickyard workers, presented the following letter to a Freeman reporter late yesterday:

"To Whom It May Concern, Mr. Joseph Quinn has been duly appointed organizer for Brick Handlers' Local, No. 1467, International Long Shoremen's Association, and the only one authorized to settle disputes or sign agreements for this local organization.

"Any courtesies extended him will be greatly appreciated by 'Very truly yours,

"JOSEPH F. QUINN
"International Pres."

The letter was dated July 19, and captioned from President Ryan's office, 265 West 14th street, New York city.

Quinn said he presented the letter to refute statements by two organizers for the Hod Carriers, Building and Common Laborers' Union of America, Thomas L. McNeary and George W. Thompson, who charged that Quinn had no right to organize brickyard workers.

"Quinn is out of his jurisdiction, and has no right in this strike. He is from the Longshoremen's Association, and brickyard workers except stevedores and barge captains, cannot be classed as longshoremen."

Quinn's answer to this was "Let them organize too if they want to, but I'm telling you that not one brick will be moved off of the yards because we won't transport them."

Public Campsites Crowded this Year

Albany, July 30—Two thousand and ninety campers have already been turned away from 12 of the Conservation Department's 30 free public campsites because of lack of available space and there has been an increase of eight and one half per cent over last year in the number of campers spent at all the campsites. If this trend continues for the balance of the season Conservation Department officials are looking forward to the largest attendance since the campsites were opened some years ago.

Figures through July 18, as compared with those for the same period a year ago, show increases in man-day attendance at all but eight of the sites. At several, notably Fish Creek, Lake George Battleground, Heartstone, unusually large increases are noted. Enlarged campsites, such as Lake Eaton, North Lake and Caroga Lake, the greatest increases have been shown.

The crowds have been so large at Heartstone Point, North Lake, Lake George Battleground, Sacandaga, Point Comfort, Poplar Point, Lewey Lake, Moffitt Beach, Golden Beach, Devil's Tombstone, Caroga Lake and Beaverkill sites that campers have been turned away every night for lack of space and it has been at these places that the total of 2,090 have had to be refused admittance.

Last year through July 18 the total number of man-days spent at the campsites was 325,404, as compared with a total of 376,229 for the same period this year.

MODENA

Modena, July 30—Employees of the State Department of Highways have been repairing sections of the highway, No. 55, near Clintondale, under the supervision of Frank Hartney, during the week.

George Mathelsen has employment in the Triangle Lunch Room in New Paltz.

Mr. and Mrs. Myron Shults entertained relatives at their home Monday evening.

Miss Alberta Decker, student nurse at Bellevue Hospital in New York city, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Decker, last week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Augustus Weeks were in Kingston Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Crosswell of Highland were callers in this village Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Lester Wager and son, Lester, spent Wednesday with Mrs. Kate Denton in Kingston.

Mrs. Harry Roosa has been employed at the Suttigen Boarding house during the summer season.

Miss Ratie Patridge of Newburgh visited at the homes of her sister, Mrs. Oscar Smith, and brother, Preston Patridge, Tuesday.

Mrs. Harry Gerow of New Paltz, Mrs. Abram Wager, Miss Glennie Wager and Mrs. Preston Patridge of this village were callers in Centerville Wednesday afternoon.

Much sympathy is extended Alonzo Haver of Ashokan and Mrs. Stanley Krum of Maybrook in loss of wife and mother.

HIGHLAND NEWS

Jump From Moving Car
Highland, July 29—A 15-year-old girl by the name of Stella from New York city and boarding at the Provenzano home, formerly the A. P. Ford farm, on the New Paltz road, jumped from a moving car Tuesday as it was leaving the yard. She landed on her head and was picked up unconscious. Dr. Helen McLean Thompson was called and ordered an ambulance and the girl was taken to Vassar Hospital. Reports Wednesday morning were to the effect that she was recovering.

To Present Two Plays
Highland, July 29—Mrs. Harry Colver, Mrs. Gladys Mears and Mrs. M. E. Maynard met Monday afternoon at the latter's home and selected two plays, "The Camerado," and "Through a Rose Garden," to be given under the auspices of the August committee of the Ladies' Aid Society at 7 o'clock on the lawn at Lakeledge, the home of Mrs. Fred Lewis, the evening of August 18. Refreshments will be served after the plays.

Plans For School Addition
Highland, July 29—Edward C. Smith of Poughkeepsie, the architect engaged by the Trustees of the Central School district, met with the Board on Wednesday afternoon. He had prepared tentative plans which gave the members a clear idea of what the addition to the present building would be like. The floors in both upper and lower halls in the main building have been repaired and this week linoleum is being laid. The janitors have been cleaning each classroom and fumigating them. The board received the resignation of Mrs. Clyde Matthews, who was a sixth grade teacher.

Personal Notes
Highland, July 29—Daniel Lavelle is visiting for some time in Cleveland, Ohio.

Late word from the Rev. and Mrs. D. S. Haynes, son and daughter, was from Tupper Lake. They were to reach Mrs. Haynes' home in Sidney the last of this week for a visit before returning to Highland.

The Phi Beta Club held a picnic Wednesday noon at the home of Miss Barbara Lent. Mrs. Irving Rathgeb, the leader, helped prepare the frankfurter roast. Five of the members, Barbara Boyce, Doranne Bush, Nancy Dean, Doris Coutant, and Barbara Lent with Miss Emily Lent as guest were present. The club has plans active members.

Mr. and Mrs. Nathan D. Williams spent a few days of this week at Sacandaga Lake.

Amos H. Weed and Ezra Sellick were in Middletown Wednesday afternoon to attend the funeral of the late John Sellick.

Mrs. Emily Decker, Miss Lizzie Decker, Mrs. Ethel Bradshaw, and Mrs. Lloyd Plass spent Sunday in Danbury, Conn.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Smedes and daughter, Margaret, came up from Brooklyn early in the week and on Tuesday with Mr. Smedes' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joel Smedes, spent the day through the Berkshires and Wednesday visited Mr. and Mrs. Frank Caverly in Newburgh.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael DeMare and sons moved Wednesday into their newly purchased home on North road, recently vacated by Vincent Castana.

Mrs. Segridd Whitley of Albany was a Tuesday until Thursday guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Whitley, and sister, Mrs. Parker Decker.

Mrs. Lawrence Gaffney entertained on Tuesday her aunt, Mrs. Walsh, of Newark, N. J., and Mr. and Mrs. Doolan of Newburgh.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Paul of Essex Falls, N. J., have been guests of Mrs. Simeon Scott and Miss Pearl Scott this week.

Mrs. Rose Seaman, Mrs. William Coy, Mrs. W. R. Seaman, Mrs. Foster Root with Mrs. Theodore Hudson and Mrs. George Rush of Marlborough drove to New York city Wednesday to see Miss Dorothy Seaman off on the Queen Mary for Europe.

Nearly 5,000,000 trees and shrubs were planted by CCC boys on farms in 11 Soil Conservation Service areas in New York state during the past spring planting season, according to S. S. Greene, state coordinator for the service.

This planting was a part of the complete erosion control plan of the service on entire farms. The five million plantings are making erosion control effective on about 3,800 acres.

YERMAT THE GLAMOUR OF SOUTH AMERICA

IS IN ITS BEWITCHING FLAVOR

• There's a gay and exciting zest to Yermat that gives you a lift and a sense of well-being. It tastes like no other drink, refreshes you like no other drink.

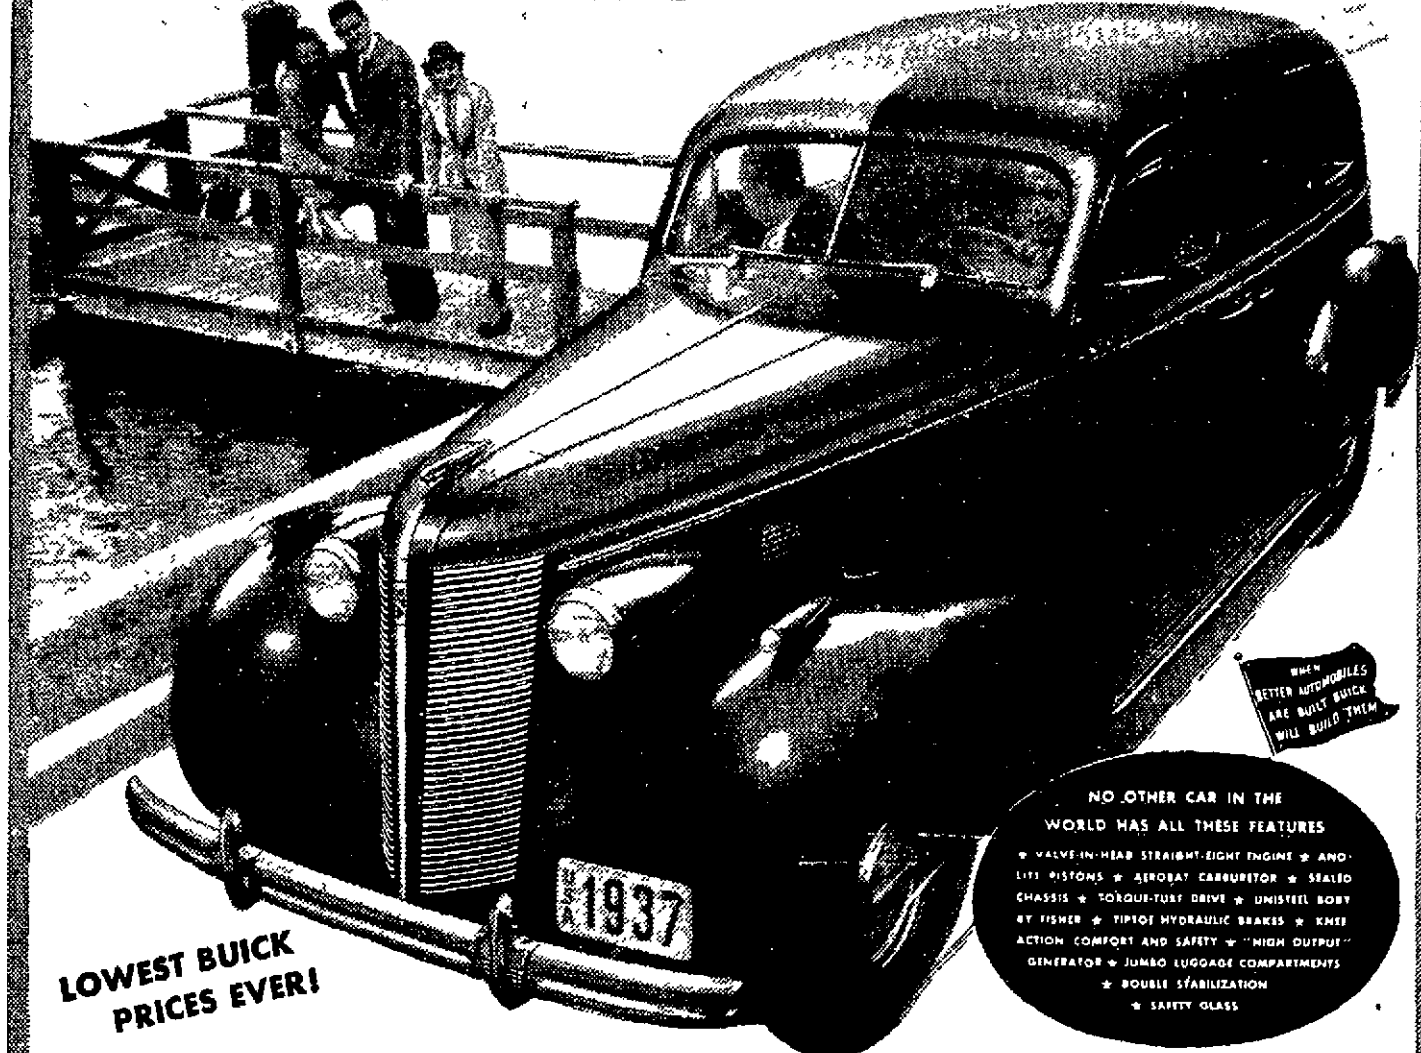

Yermat is made of Yerba Maté, the romantic herb of South America. For centuries South Americans have enjoyed this herb's unique qualities—a distinctly pleasing taste and healthful exhilaration. Now you may enjoy them, too, in Yermat. Brewed, bottled and carbonated in Millis, Mass., by Clicquot Club. Your dealer has Yermat. See him for some today.

Contains no alcohol, no artificial coloring, no preservatives. In full-pint (16-oz.) bottles.

THE CLICQUOT CLUB COMPANY, MILLIS, MASS.

THE WISE BUYER KNOWS WHEN TO BUY TOO!

LOWEST BUICK
PRICES EVER!

TAKE a look at the size of that Buick—watch it in flashing action on the highway—listen to the admiring comment that rises up on every hand—can there be any question as to what car you ought to buy?

Nor can there be any doubt as to when to decide on a Buick! The time is now!

For there's plenty of ideal driving weather left. You'll be making many a summer and fall trip yet this season when you'll thrill to Buick get-up-and-travel, to Buick comfort and ease.

And if you buy while the buying's good, you'll get one of these handsome travelers at an all-time low as far as Buick's prices go!

It's an actual fact—with all its action and life and thrilling behavior, the hundred-horsepower, valve-in-head straight-eight Buick SPECIAL now costs less in some models than certain sixes!

So why hold back? Why be content to be one of the crowd? Why put things off when such a standout buy as this is still waiting to be picked up at your say-so?

If you haven't driven a new Buick, make arrangements to try one out right now! It's got what you want at a price that's nicely within your reach.

The Moss Feature Syndicate, Greensboro, N. C.

How often have we heard the expression: "Oh, if only something would turn up!" It's a fine wish, to be sure; but we seldom cash in on mere wishes in this world. Get out and hustle a bit. Things usually turn up for the man who digs.

Medical Doctor (to his fiancée)—You are a little goose!
Fiancée (laughing)—Of course, I am. Haven't I got a quack?

Snipped from an exchange: Editing a newspaper without ruffling anybody's feelings is like fishing without a hook. You get lots of recreation but no results.

Wife—Elmer! This isn't our baby!
Hubby—Shut up! It's a better baby carriage!

Men who set out to court trouble quickly find themselves wedded to it.

Teacher—There's no difficulty in the world that cannot be overcome.
Pupil—Have you ever tried squeezing toothpaste back into the tube?

Mother—Where's your dad?
Son—He has gone to look for a flower.
Mother—A flower?
Son—Yes, he said he'd find the blooming idiot or bust!

"It was the best show," comments a Kingston girl earnestly, "I just cried and cried!"

A business enterprise is like a ship at sea—the management of it cannot be reduced to a formula.

An Exchange asks in a headline: "Does Meat Make One Fat?"—We'll say it does—if he can't get it when he wants it.

Debunking An Adage: "Early to bed and early to rise makes a man healthy and wealthy and wise."

But does this quaint saying portray the truth?

The world has changed a lot since our youth.
And it's certain a lot that once we believed in.

With a great deal of skepticism now is received.
We go to bed early, and rise up betimes.

But the list of our ailments constantly climbs:
Nor have we grown wealthy, so now we surmise.

That we've been mistaken—at least we are wise.

Young Man—Did anyone ever tell you how wonderful you are?
Sweet Young Thing—I don't believe they ever did.

Young Man—Then where'd you ever get the idea?

The facilities for getting into trouble have been vastly improved along with everything else.

Young Man—Where did you learn to kiss like that?
Girl Friend—From eating spaghetti.

Read it or not:
A giant pie containing 12,000 cherries was baked in Portland, Oregon.

Young Man—Just one kiss, dearest?
His Girl—No, dear, we haven't time. Daddy will be home in an hour.

This interesting item is from the Flushing, Long Island, New York, Daily Journal:

Question: How can I prevent moths and mice from getting into dresser drawers and trunks?
Answer: Soak in milk, then rinse thoroughly in warm water with a little carbolic acid.

To which, we'd like to ask: Come, be more explicit! Soak the mice, or the dresser drawers?

Garden Project Gives Needy Opportunity To 'Workneat'

FAMILY LOAD

Grandpa goes right on with his weeding in a "Workneat" garden near Seattle while grandson uses him for a horse.

(By The AP Feature Service)

Seattle—For working a minimum of 12 hours in a cooperative truck patch, a needy person here can replenish his bare cupboard with a year's supply of vegetables.

Workneat gardens, they're called, sponsored by the Production for Use association.

Twenty-five hundred persons will share in the harvest. Many are heads of families, many elderly gardeners. A one-armed man, who is 81, already has put in more than 58 hours. One woman complained that another, 79, was too

GARDEN HINTS

Compounds of copper, mercury, sulphur, and formaldehyde are your chief aids against plant diseases.

An established Peony which has been in the ground more than two years should not be transplanted without dividing.

Panicles may be sown in the early spring for late summer bloom, and left in the garden to flower again the next spring. After early flowering the plants will begin to die. One of the most satisfactory methods is to sow the seed in July or early August in a well prepared seed bed which can be kept shaded and watered. By October 1st these little plants should be ready to transplant into the garden. If given a light mulch during the winter they will make splendid large blooming plants all the next spring and summer.

Keep phlox foliage sprayed with Bordeaux mixture or quassia every ten days to avoid mildew.

All varieties of hardy perennials except a few with very small seed, can be sown outdoors where the plants are to remain or sown separately in a seed bed and transplanted later. The sowing can be done any time from May until September 1st.

The Madonna Lily is probably the best loved and most widely grown of all lilies. They grow about 4 feet tall, and the single stem carries four to a dozen trumpet-shaped, richly fragrant blooms. The bulbs are the most plentiful of all lilies, except, perhaps, the Regal. In the North Temperate Zone, September and October are the best months for planting, which should be done as soon as possible after the bulbs come into the market.

Annuals which have blossomed early in the season may be made to flower again by shearing off their tops.

Sulphur preparations are used particularly as dormant sprays against scale insects, especially on trees and ornamentals, like the ash, lilac and Japanese Quince.

Home Canning.

Home canning began about 1860 when such products as fruits, tomatoes, and pickles were canned by what is known as the open-kettle, or cooked-in-the-kettle, method. Within the past 20 years this method has fallen into disuse.

Modern canning methods are described in one of Cornell's most useful bulletins for the homemaker. And ways to preserve fruits, vegetables, meats, and poultry are given. Every homemaker may find the bulletin helpful now.

Must Be on Guard Says G.O.P. Head

Monticello, July 29.—Although the court packing program of the New Deal administration at Washington is dead for the time being, the people must continue on guard against further assaults on their freedom, Chairman William S. Murray of the Republican State committee warned here tonight.

Speaking before the Sullivan County Republican Committee at a meeting in the courthouse here, the party leader pictured recommitment of the court bill as a tremendous victory for American ideals, but added:

"Let us not be lulled into a false sense of security. So long as the New Deal philosophy continues active in our National Capitol, we must be on our guard. The court packing bill was not the only measure threatening our freedom. The New Dealers only sought to jam that through first. They figured the President must have a Supreme Court that would respond to his dictation before the other measures of doubtful constitutionality should be advanced."

Chairman Murray said the administration plans to push the Black-Connery bill, which would give them a "stranglehold on business of the nation." He described the proposed set up under the bill, which includes a board of five members with drastic powers to regulate business and industry. Then he asked:

"Can you picture what a New Deal board would do with such vast powers? You have seen the spectacle of abuse of power by other New Deal bureaus. Can there be any better proof of the fact the New Deal program has dictatorship as its goal? And let me say to you that a dictatorship that can dominate industry of this nation will also dominate the private lives of its citizens."

"The Senate last week struck one resounding blow at the dictatorship program when they killed the court packing bill, but we must be alert in watching for the next move. Our hope is that, once the senators have thrown off the shackles of the White House, they will continue to stand up for American rights until the New Deal theorists become convinced the Communist doctrines of European nations are not suited to the principles of American citizens."

The meeting here tonight was for the purpose of endorsing a slate of candidates for legislative and county offices. Urging election of a Republican assemblyman from Sullivan county to replace a Democratic incumbent, Chairman Murray said:

"The Republican Party in this state has adopted policies that recognize the problems of the man on the street. The record of the Republican Party in the last session of the Legislature has won praise from all sides. If you will nominate a candidate whom the voters will trust to continue those policies, I am sure you will be successful in November."

"Voters today are giving more attention to the qualifications of local candidates than ever before. They are becoming more interested in the affairs of their government. They have seen the cost of government rise to heights they never dreamed of. They realize they must act to protect their own interests."

DRY BROOK.

Dry Brook, July 29.—Miss Beardslee, county nurse, visited this place checking up on children under and of school age who had not been inoculated against diphtheria.

Basil Van Kleeft, also Mrs. Lillian Todd, have quite a number of city guests.

The M. E. Church fair held Tuesday afternoon and evening netted nearly $400.

Shirley Fairbairn is spending some time visiting with her aunt, Mrs. Harold Baker, at Margaretville.

Mrs. Claude Green is assisting Mrs. Lillian Todd with household duties.

A free clinic for inoculation against diphtheria was held at Maplefield school house Wednesday, with Dr. G. B. Maurer.

Leopold Weitz, who has been assisting Grover Kittle in haying, returned to his home in Arkville early in the week.

A number of boys from CCC Camp at Margaretville have been working on telephone line from Balsam Mountain Observatory to Fleischmanns.

Viola Gossow, who spent two weeks with her aunt, Mrs. Pauline Leal, at Cross River, returned home Sunday.

MARLBOROUGH

Marlborough July 29.—The Chevrolet truck owned by Jesse Edwards, local butcher, was damaged in an accident last Saturday, when the truck and a car from Jersey were involved in the collision. The Edward's car was driven by Edward Morell, who escaped injury. The accident occurred at Eolin Heights. The left side of the Chevrolet truck was damaged.

The Diamond D Bus line which for the last 20 years has given bus transportation to the residents of this vicinity has ceased its service to these communities. The transfer of the Diamond D to the Mountain View Line, of Cossack, was approved. In the last week by the Public Service Commission, and went into effect last Thursday morning. There will be few changes in the new system according to Henry Albright, owner of the Mountain Lines. All the drivers who have been operating for the Diamond D have been released by Mrs. Rotena DuBois, head of the old line, and are now working for the Mountain View Line.

Grade school tuition for pupils who attend the Marlborough Central School from outside the district will be only $40 a year. This was the decision of the board of education at the meeting held last week. This rate is very much lower than that in other districts in this section. The low rate, however, brings additional pupils and results in more state aid added to the treasury, as well as benefits outside children.

Mrs. Floyd Minard underwent an emergency operation in St. Luke's Hospital on Tuesday afternoon. The operation was performed by Dr. Daniel O'Leary of Newburgh.

Dobby Linsig, whose two and a half years have been happily lived despite the fact that he was born without an esophagus, is in St. Luke's Hospital, Newburgh, again, where he spent the first three months of his life. He will undergo a second operation in the very near future, this operation being necessary due to a feeding condition that has only recently developed. X-rays have found that the channel is not quite deep enough, a condition which has lately been allowing leakage to a distressing degree. Dr. Donovan, of Newburgh, expects to operate again, pulling the tissue around the opening to form a deeper artificial channel that will stay closed as it should.

About 35 men, members of the local firemen attended the Ulster county convention held at Port Jervis on Saturday. The new truck accompanied the men as did the Deacon Pike and Drum corps. The trip was made in a chartered bus of the Diamond D.

Miss Roberta Baxter will continue as secretary to the principal of the central schools. She was unanimously reappointed to this position by the Board of Education at its reorganization meeting with an increase in salary. No health examiners have been appointed as yet, and no school dentist has been named. A visiting committee from the board was appointed, composed of Calvin Staples and Joseph Dall Vechia at the same meeting.

A public clubbing will be held on Sunday, August 1 by the members of the Marlborough Sportsmen's Association. The hike will be held on Samalley's Island, at the riverfront, Marlborough.

Mrs. Frank Johnston and Elaine, Mrs. Albert Marks, and daughter, Mary, and Mrs. Victor Froemel, and son, Victor Martin, are spending this week at the Johnston camp at Lake Wanauk, Sullivan county.

Ann Sundstrom is visiting in Ellenville at the home of her grandmother, Mrs. V. Greenwood. The Misses Jessie and Louise Plank, of Cossack, spent Sunday at the home of their brother, Wally Plank and family. Betsy Eralyn Plank, who has been

Emerson-Triola and Severino-Forezzi at Auditorium Tonight

Emerson's Real Test With Albany Southpaw In Five Round Match

Forezzi Gets Coveted Chance at the Popular Little Boxer He Hopes to Knock Out Tonight in Local Ring.

This is fight night at the municipal auditorium where eight bouts will go on under the auspices of the Adirondack A. A. U., featuring some of the outstanding scoundrels in the organization. Five five-round matches are listed, with three three-round preliminaries to fill out the card, to make up for the somewhat marred presentation last week, caused by the non appearance of Buddy Emerson's opponent. Tonight Emerson's man will be at the auditorium without fail, Joe Triola, hard hitting southpaw from Albany, is the scrapper pitted with the St. Remy prize. Both of these boys boxed at Catskill Wednesday, winning their bouts.

Emerson knocked out Johnny Freeman, rated as the best lightweight in Greene county, in one minute and 50 seconds of the second round, proving that his punching power is as great as even if he can only land that dynamite right of his.

After the scrap, Buddy said he felt fine and expressed anxiety about meeting Triola. "I ain't told the fans in Kingston what to see me up against a real good boy, Triola is the man, I guess. His record looks better to me than any other fighters in the Adirondack A. A. U. I hope I'll be able to beat him."

Asked whether he feared Triola's punches, Emerson smiled and commented, "Have you ever seen me afraid of any fighter. I go in there to win or take a beating. I've met 'em all from Lou Ambers down and I've never backed away."

Triola fought on the same card in Catskill, Wednesday, defeating Bonny Murrell of Hudson in the featured scrap. He landed out some terrific punishment, especially with his left, the hand that has built up his knockout record.

"I'm going to go out early for a knockout when I meet Emerson," Joe told sports writers. "He's a dangerous man, and I know I'll have to be more than careful of that right he throws. He surely laid Freeman out cold. I saw him fight and think I can keep away though by moving around swiftly."

Triola is in tip top condition, fully ready for five strenuous rounds. Next to the Triola-Emerson scrap in interest for local fans comes the pairing between Mario Severino, Schenectady schoolboy favorite, and Charlie Forezzi, Albany featherweight. Both hold wins over Kid Chapple. Forezzi knocked the localite out last fall, then sort of went on the shelf because of no competition.

"I couldn't get a fight because the A. A. U. said there were no boxers good enough," Forezzi informed reporters. "This Severino guy has been getting away for a long time. I've challenged him and he's dodged me. He's doing nothing until now. I think I can knock him out. I'm going to do my best anyhow."

Probably Severino will get all of the cheers tonight, because of his popularity with Kingstonians, especially the feminine sports fans.

There was doubt at noon whether Tony Viscio would be able to go through with his date tonight with Guy Corneo because of a nose injury suffered in training. Ben M. Becker, of the Adirondack A. A. U., notified the local boxing committee he would have a suitable opponent, probably Tony Reiter. Albany slogger, in case the physician rejects Viscio.

Otherwise tonight's card will go on as scheduled: Red Van Alstyne, Havana, vs. Chief Costanza, Mechanicville, 5 rounds, middleweights. Jimmy Thomas, Albany, vs. Frankie Thompson, Ballston Lake, 5 rounds, welterweights. Mickey Turck, Kingston, vs. Kearny Store, Havana, 2 rounds, bantamweights. Dave Hoyer, Kingston, vs. Billy DeFries, Albany, 3 rounds, lightweights. Johnny Sarruth, Schenectady, vs. Pete Di Lello, Albany, 3 rounds, featherweights. Starting time is 9 o'clock.

Clermonts Take Over Hebrews, 9-2

The Clermont No. 2 softball team of the Industrial Division of the City Softball Association defeated the Jewish Youth Alliance players, 9-2, Thursday evening at Armory diamond No. 1.

Sinspaugh and Styles featured in the hitting attack for the Clermonts with a homer and double and triple respectively.

The batteries: Clermonts—Schussler and Sinspaugh; J. Y. A.—Marcus and Estroff.

Auburn State Prison officials are puzzled over what to do about "Copper John," the Revolutionary War soldier standing atop the main prison building. The building is being demolished to make way for a more modern structure, and officials are debating whether to have the historic statue set above the new building. The statue is a copy made by prisoners in 1848 of an original wooden statue placed atop the building in 1816.

For The Caddy, Hard Times Come Again No More

By The AP Feature Service
Atlanta—Prosperity has returned for the caddy, with golf courses crowded as never before. That's why the caddy on the left is carrying two bags. He's caught a double—$1.50 and tips. That's why the grinning blackamoor above is so happy. He's been "livin' right"—prerequisite to successful financial manipulation.

TIPS are bigger "lak old times—it's to 'bits an' up!" Drinks go the round at the 19th hole, the caddies getting "setups." This dusky club lugger wastes no time disposing of his refreshment.

DURING the busiest months, caddies usually work 18 holes in the morning and 18 holes in the afternoon. In between, they doze. These photographs, taken at "Mistuh Bobby Jones' kose"—the East Lake Country Club of Atlanta—are typical of shots that might be made almost anywhere in the U. S. as the golf season reaches its peak. "De depresshun done ended."

Vanderbilt Not Worried By Defeat

Newport, R. I., July 29 (AP)—Harold S. Vanderbilt indicated by his actions today—the day before the Ranger will begin defense of the America's Cup—that he was undisturbed by its first defeat in 13 starts which his one-time afterguard administered with a former British challenger for the trophy.

Only weather conditions so inclement as to endanger the Ranger would prevent the big sloop from starting today. Vanderbilt said, in a special race against three others, including the Endeavor I which outdistanced the American defender yesterday, in the 37-mile run from Vineyard Haven.

The American, Sherman Hoyt, veteran of the 1930 and 1934 cup races who skipped the first Endeavor, now owned by Frederick Sigrist, to victory yesterday, turned acclaim aside with the assertion Endeavor had been favored by a shift in the direction of the breeze and that Ranger was overhauling her as she approached the finish line.

Stiff Competition At Arlington Races

Chicago, July 30 (AP)—Horsemen will find two big pots of gold at the end of Arlington Park's "Golden Rainbow" tomorrow.

The $50,000 Arlington Futurity and the $25,000 Arlington Handicap will feature the closing day of the huge racing plant's 30-day meeting, and the two stakes are expected to draw upwards of 40,000 spectators.

An even dozen two year olds—the best from the East and the West—are expected to fight it out in the Futurity over six furlongs. A week ago the race seemed at the mercy of three colts representing Mrs. Ethel V. Mars Milky Way Farm stable—Sky Larking, Tiger and C. Note. But in final drills, the last of which was run yesterday, several horses served notice they will try and make the event a wide-open affair.

Warren Wright's Bull Lea has been particularly impressive. For the East, Perpetuate is expected to make a strong bid. In addition, Hal Price Headley's two representatives, Menow and Bourbon King, have shown lightning speed, while Mrs. John Marsch uncovered a spectacular colt in Kings Blue during the week.

Birdseye View Of Sports Events

By EDDIE BRIETZ

New York, July 29 (AP)—A James J. Braddock-Max Baer match is in the making here. ... Mike Jacobs and Joe Gould spent more than two hours with Ancil Hoffman, Baer's pilot. ... Terms were agreed to and the date set for sometime in September. ... Everything was settled except the site. It will be Los Angeles, Chicago or San Francisco. ... If the Cubs have a weakness, why don't they begin to show it? ... Don Budge says he will not turn pro. ... Everyone else says he will. ... We'll string along with the "pippul." ... Dick Bartell's groin injury is so painful, the scrappy Giant shortstopper has to sleep in a chair.

Out in St. Louis they say they are having the coolest summer in 50 years because the Cards aren't hot any more. ... Hirsch Jacobs needs only one more winner (and he'll likely get it at Saratoga today) to pass the century mark for the season. ... Lou Ambers, the lightweight champ, saw plenty when he went down to Philadelphia the other night to see Henry Armstrong (a possible future opponent) belt out Benny Bass. ... A lot of smart baseball men will bet you Rogers Hornsby will be managing the Indians next year. ... It cost the White Sox $2,000 to insure last Sunday's double bill with the Yankees against rain.

Why all the commotion because owner Sam Riddle has announced War Admiral will not run at Saratoga? ... Shucks! ... Old Orlo (Hardboots) Robertson, the AP racing expert, told you as much at the day after the horse was hurt at Belmont weeks ago. ... Hardboots said if War Admiral starts again this year it will not be before the Belmont meeting in September. ... All the publicity he's getting over here seems to have gone to Tommy Farr's head. ... He thinks he's so hot he wants to ditch his manager after March 1 and collect 100 per cent of his purses for himself. ... There are some nice looking kids on the South American boxing team en route to the Pan American games at Dallas.

Promoters of the Farr-Louis heavyweight bout would be glad if Max Schmeling changes his mind about coming over to see it. ... They fear he would steal the show. ... Why not? ... He's the guy who knocked out Louis and whom Farr ran out on, ain't he?

het ... Burlingame Grimes has personally plunged into the bushes to get the Dodgers some help. ... Johnny Rizzo and Enos Slaughter of Columbus and Goodwin Rosen and Mel Simmons, of Louisville, are the birds he has his eye on. ... Dutch Meyer, former Texas Christian grid star, broke into pro baseball in the Southern Association in a big way. ... A homer, triple, double and single in four trips up. ... Three rabs and a tiger for good old Dutch.

They say it is a real treat to visit Tony Galento's Orange, N. J., bar the night Tony wins a fight. ... Prof. Billy McCarney, the fight manager, is again holding up corners on W. 43rd Street after three weeks in the sticks getting a sunburn. ... Mike Jacobs, who has a weakness for silk shirts, left an important conference yesterday to put in an order for three dozen of same—at $10 per throw (cut rates). ... Rip Collins, of the Cubs, as smart as they come, says the Boston Bees have the best pitching staff in baseball in Lou Fette, Jim Turner, Danny MacFayden, Young Launing and Guy Bush. ... Tony Galento's knockout of Al Ettore may earn the old night slick a shot with John Henry Lewis in Pittsburgh. ... That's good. Manager Joe Jacobs needs the hope.

Hollywood

Sights And Sounds

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—Movie factories: "Ali Baba Goes to Town" is Eddie Cantor's first film under the Twentieth Century trademark, and the studio is going to town on production. Lavish sets, interior and exterior, have been built, each looking like Darryl Zanuck's answer to Sam Goldwyn, who has a reputation for sparing no expense. Eddie and Sam parted company with headlines and commotion before the comedian signed with Zanuck, and Hollywood is curious to see whether Eddie won or lost in leaving Sam. Eddie plays a movie extra who goes to sleep in one of the props used for an Ali Baba movie, and dreams himself back into old Arabia where he starts a New Deal.

Today's scene has Eddie being stabbed with a prop knife by Douglas Dumbrille, an Old Dealer in whiskers, silks and turban, while courtiers, equally bedecked, look on. Eddie has brought the knife Dumbrille is astounded when it has no effect on Eddie, who merely inquires, "Which way should I fall?" But the prop knife's springs squeak in undreamy fashion, and they have to take the scene again. Gypsy Rose Lee—I mean Louise Hovick—is in this picture with June Lang, Roland Young, Alan Dinehart and others. The assistant director, summoning Gypsy, calls "Miss Hovick," and when Dave Butler, the director, calls her he says "Miss Lee—Miss Hovick." Even at home Zanuck is making the name change stick.

For "The Bride Wore Red" Hollywood has gone to the mountains and also brought the mountain to Hollywood. The Joan Crawford picture now is back in the sound stages after a location trip to the High Sierras. Stage 15 is a nice Trollean setting, complete with trees and foliage.

And there is excitement not in the script Joan is emoting smoothly when suddenly she grasps her arm and says "Ouch." There is concern—the star has been bitten by a spider.

"Oh, it's nothing," says Joan. But Dorothy Arzner, the director, insists on calling a nurse to treat the wound. They also get out the spray guns and declare war on other spiders that might be lurking in the transplanted foliage. The spider, it develops, was playful rather than vicious, and the show goes on. . . . Some stars take to their beds—with headlines—at incidents of this sort. . . .

WOODSTOCK HISTORICAL SOCIETY MEETING

Woodstock, July 29.—About 100 members of the Woodstock Historical Society met on Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Norman T. Boggs. Professor Martin Scheutze of the University of Chicago was the speaker of the evening. Professor Scheutze was at one time president of the society and it was a great pleasure to the members to have him preside after an absence of five years. His address was on "The Relations Between History and the Present." In addition to his own address he read a magazine article on the new architecture by William Muschenheim, modern architect. Because of illness Mrs. Lillian Downer, who was to have spoken on quilts, was unable to be present.

Elwyn Student Group

Woodstock, July 29.—A few friends of the Robert Elwyn student group were invited on Tuesday afternoon to a performance of "I'll Leave It to You," the Noel Coward comedy which the students have been studying for the past two weeks. This amusing comedy offered an excellent opportunity to demonstrate the ability of each member of the group. It proved them to be an interesting and capable group of young actors. The entire student group, under the leadership of their instructor, Donald Wetmore of the New York School of the Theatre, took part in the play. They were Ottilie Schroeder, Russell Derwyn, Maureen Lyon, Aileen Cramer, Hope Spingarn, Marion Katsburg, Jean Woolford and Leonore Forststadt. Edward Brooks of the professional group helped out by taking one of the two lead parts. The group will start their second semester on August 1, when a number of new students will be enrolled.

Personal Notes

Woodstock, July 29.—Mrs. George Martin, Woodstock artist, is having a studio built by Arthur Wolven at her Ohayo Mountain home.

A one-man show of paintings and drawings by Mary Parley will be on exhibition for one week, starting Friday, at the Sawkill Gallery.

Dan West, well known here as a talented young artist, died suddenly in New York last week of infantile paralysis. He had just returned from travels in Europe.

Mrs. Ethel Sigbee Small of Washington, D. C., who has a summer home in Shandaken, visited friends in Woodstock on Tuesday.

A party of actors from the Stony Creek Theatre in Connecticut attended "Hedda Gabler" at the Maverick Theatre particularly to see Helen Warren's performance in the title role. Miss Warren's brother, who is acting in a Vermont theatre, also attended.

Mrs. A. P. Lawton of Washington, D. C., arrived on Tuesday to spend a two-weeks' visit here with her sister, Mrs. W. O. Thompson.

METACACHONTS

Metacachonts, July 29.—Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Osterhout of Accord called on relatives in this place Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Miller and daughter called on Mrs. Spencer Travel at the home of her mother, Mrs. Gerslein of Pataunkunk Sunday evening.

Miss Pearl Krom of Kingston spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Krom, and family.

Miss Marion Miller of Hurley spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Miller and family.

Mrs. Ella Wood spent Sunday with Mrs. Oliver Baker and Mrs. Tracy Baker.

Miss Tessie Wood had employment over the week-end at Lake Mohawk.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ebert and son are visiting the former's parents in Pennsylvania.

The annual meeting of the Metacachonts Hall Association will be held at the hall on Monday evening, August 9.

The Metacachonts picnic will be held at the Metacachonts hall on Wednesday afternoon and evening, August 18. A hot roast supper will be served and music will be furnished by Clayton's Military Band of Ellenville.

The Willing Workers' meeting will be held at the Metacachonts Hall Wednesday afternoon, August 4, at 1:30 P. M.

CHICHESTER.

Chichester, July 29.—Mrs. L. Rock and daughter of Massachusetts are spending some time at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. Rows.

Twins, a boy and a girl, were born to Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Grant early Sunday morning. They were taken to the Kingston Hospital, where the boy died the following day. He was buried on Tuesday. Mrs. Grant is getting along nicely.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Coons of Silver Hollow at the Margaretville Hospital on Tuesday.

Miss Nellie Keator spent Saturday evening at West Point.

Mrs. M. Law is getting better at the Kingston Hospital, where she has been a patient for some time.

Otto Stanto of New Jersey has been visiting his mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Justin Wright, Jr., have been entertaining out-of-town relatives.

Girl Lifeguards Aid Males In Distress

Clearwater Beach, Fla. (AP).—Men bathers get a break here. The lifeguard corps includes a group of young women.

While at most beaches a fellow has no recourse if his sweetie tries to drown herself just to be rescued by some bronzed Adonis in a lifeguard uniform, he can get even here by staging his own act conveniently near one of the shapely girl rescuers.

Miss Myrtle (Bunny) Lowery, pretty college student, heads the squad of girl lifesavers who are all volunteers.

"Our main purpose is to keep accidents from happening rather than doing rescue work," Miss Lowery explains.

But should a young man decide to stage a drowning act, it must be a good one.

"We can usually tell when they're fooling," Miss Lowery says, "and we don't stand for any nonsense."

"Bunny" Lowery. Takes No "Nonsense."

PREVIEWED

Today

Broadway: "Riding On Air." Richard Macaulay's famous fiction character, Elmer Lane, goes in for aviation in this comedy film at the Broadway in one of the craziest pictures ever constructed.

With Joe E. Brown in the starring role, the show is a series of gags that prove to be unusually successful and original in treatment. Others in the cast include Florence Rice, Guy Kibbee and Vinton Haworth.

Kingston: "Sing and Be Happy" and "King of Gamblers." A musical comedy effort and a gambling drama make up the double feature bill at the Kingston.

The first show is a song fest with Leah Ray, Dixie Dunbar, Anthony Martin and Allan Lane featured. The second concerns a big time gambler played by Lloyd Nolan and supported by Claire Trevor.

Orpheum: "Dimples" and "Hitting the Trail." Shirley Temple is to be viewed to advantage in the best of the Orpheum double features in an average little story built around her talents. "Hitting the Trail" is the other full length film with Tex Ritter. It's an average western drama of flying fists and heroics.

Tomorrow: Broadway: "The Singing Marine." Dick Powell becomes a tough leatherneck in the musical drama at the Broadway and he fights his way through the troubled waters of war and romance before the play's termination. Essentially a musical film, it also possesses a vague plot plus much comedy and riotous action. Mr. Powell sings a group of stirring military songs and his supporting cast includes such names as Hugh Herbert, Lee Dixon, Doris Weston, Allen Jenkins, Doctor Rockwell and Jane Darwell. Warren and Dublin wrote the music, Busby Berkeley directed the dance routines, and Ray Enright directed this Warner Brothers picture. Kingston: "Blazing Sixes." James Hilton's story of the Russian revolution and of a titled girl who is trapped in the terror of the peasant revolt and who escapes to the safety of the border through the aid of a young officer, is photographed and directed with unusual beauty of treatment in "Knight Without Armor," one of the best of the offerings to come from Alexander Korda's London studios. The play stars Marlene Dietrich and Robert Donat and the talented directing of Jacques Feyder is evident in every scene. "Blazing Sixes" is the other attraction with the singing cowboy, Dick Foran, in another tale of the winning of the west.

Orpheum: Same.

It takes 8,625 gallons of water, recirculated every minute, to wash the air and cool the new $13,000,000 department of interior building in Washington.

C. I. O. Workmen Strike

Edgewater, N. J., July 30 (AP)—Six hundred C. I. O. workmen started a sit-down strike today in the large waterfront plant of the National Sugar Refining Company of America. Joseph Kivilez, vice-president of Local 151 of the C. I. O.'s United Sugar Workers Union, said they struck because the company refused to grant demands for a 20 per cent wage increase and 40-hour week.

Wisconsin Dells May Be Fifty Million Years Old

The Dells of Wisconsin has survived at least fifty million years, according to a writer in the Chicago Tribune. In some of its canyons one can stand on pre-Cambrian granite and see the ripples cut into solid masses of rock by the Cambrian sea, which covered North America, Europe and Asia during the first period of the Paleozoic era, the earliest geologic age recording life on earth.

The rhythm of the Paleozoic era was one of alternating submergences and emergences of the land. But when the shallow seas subsided for the last time, the granite foundation of the Dells region was built high with sandstone.

After two more geologic ages had run their course, the Pleistocene age packed in cold storage more than half the world, including all of Wisconsin except the southwestern corner. But miracles were at work under the ice cap. And when the "great thaw" came there was the Wisconsin river cutting its southwesterly way toward the father of waters through rugged sandstone cliffs. Thirty thousand years of water, wind and weather have wrought great changes in those cliffs, many of which have assumed weird and fantastic shapes. But the same dark river reflects the rich reds, yellows, purples, browns and greens of the craggy bluffs and verdant upper banks.

Eastern Roads To Study Effects Of The Reduced Rates

Eastern railroads are making studies of the effect of the reduced passenger rates put into effect a year ago under order of the I. C. C. It is admitted that the lower fares have increased business, but it is claimed that the increased cost of handling this business has more than offset the gains. Western roads have increased fares 1 cent a mile on round trip tickets.

Reports of net earnings for the second quarter show that Bethlehem Steel has made net profits during the quarter equal to $2.55 a common share, after all deductions, compared with $2.01 in the first quarter. This is despite the labor trouble at the Cambria plant during the second quarter. On the other hand Youngstown Sheet & Tube and Republic Steel show adverse effects of the steel strike, both reporting sharply reduced earnings from the first quarter. Youngstown reported $1.14 a share for the second quarter compared with $1.98 in the same period in 1936; Republic earned 53 cents on second preferred shares the past quarter.

On the New York Exchange industrial registered a gain of 0.44 point, on the Dow-Jones average, yesterday, but rails showed a drop of 0.37 point and utilities were off 0.15 point. Bonds were steady. A major factor in the recent strength of high grade rail, utility and municipal bonds is said to be the fact that institutional investors have been disposing of some of their immediate second grade and defaulted rail obligations, which are paying no interest and turning the proceeds into high grade issues and cash. Cotton closed off $1 a bale yesterday on higher crop estimates. September corn broke four cents and wheat was easier.

The London market closed strong yesterday. French francs improved as government decided to undertake a program of economic rehabilitation, making a drastic cut in public expenditures. The tractor industry looks for large profits this fall. The industry now has some 42 per cent of the farm equipment business compared with 28 per cent ten years ago.

Packard Motors show net earnings of $1,205,353 in second quarter, equal to eight cents a share, compared with $2,272,098, or 15 cents a share in 1936 period. For the six months period the company earned 25 cents on common vs. 23 cents a year ago. Some further net earnings reports for the second quarter: American Metal Co., 85 cents vs. 9 cents in 1936 period. Yellow Truck and Coach 29 cents on Class B and common shares outstanding vs. 53 cents. Addressograph - Multigraph $1.58 on shares outstanding vs. 68 cents. Oils Elevator 48 cents vs. 21 cents. Gillette Safety Razor 23 cents vs. 31 cents.

Lima Locomotive Works resumed dividends with a payment of $1, first since February, 1931. Bethlehem Steel voted $1.50 on common vs. preceding $1. American Metal announced a 25 cents extra. Tide Water Associated Oil granted a ten-cent extra and 25 cents quarterly vs. preceding 20 cents.

New York city Federal Reserve banks reported business loans of $17,000,000 for week ended July 28; holdings of direct government securities gained $38,000,000.

No More Hungry Cops.

New York, July 30 (AP)—New York police today were organized to protect themselves against movies portraying cops and detectives as bunglers and "stooges." The New York State Association of Police Chiefs adopted a resolution condemning such "adverse" portrayals and providing for a three-man committee to initiate a campaign to teach film and stage producers and incidentally the public—how police operate. The committee plans to enlist state movie boards in its cause.

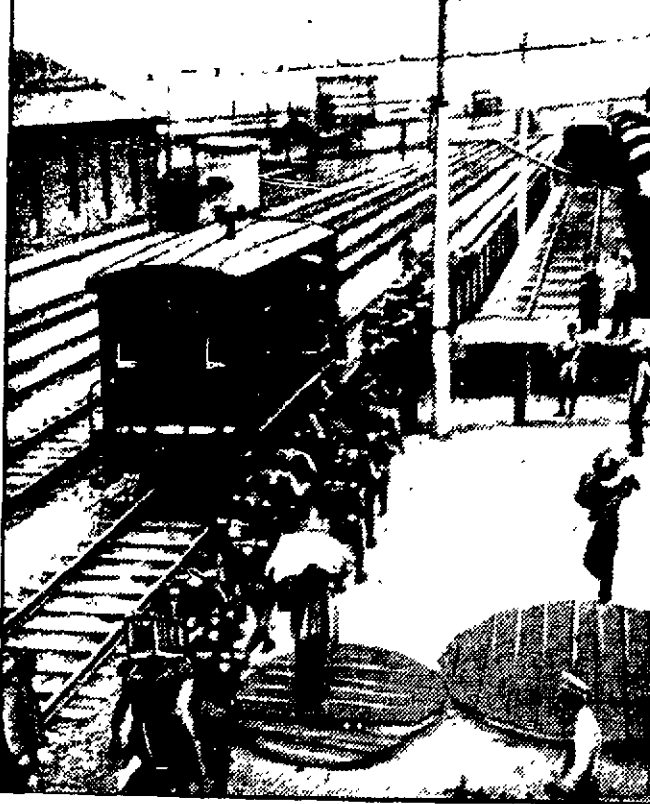

Gary Cooper's Home Burglarized

Los Angeles, July 30 (AP)—Burglars broke into the palatial home of Gary Cooper, film star, and stole jewelry valued in excess of $18,000 early today. The burglary was committed while Cooper and his wife, the former Veronica Balfe, were visiting friends. A housekeeper, awakened by the alarm dog, discovered that many rooms had been ransacked. Returning just as police were making an investigation, the housekeeper made a hurried appraisal of their losses, which may total more than $25,000.

103rd Birthday.

Norrisville, Pa., July 30 (AP)—"Aunt Lucy" Haak observed her 103rd birthday today and said, "I feel like more." Born in Java, N. Y., in 1834. Her second husband died 40 years ago.

TIENTSIN RAIL CENTER BOMBED

The lives of many Americans were imperilled as Japanese army fliers rained bombs on Tientsin in a drastic effort to rout a Chinese attack that threatened to drive the Japanese army from the city. The principal target was the railroad center which is shown above as Japanese guards were on duty to protect arriving troop trains. Many buildings in Tientsin were fired by the bombs.

the safety of 200 Korean residents in East Hoped.

General Hin Ju-Keng, "pro-Japanese governor of East Hoped," was reported "captured by rebels."

Reach "Second Steps"

Tokyo, July 30 (AP)—The Japanese cabinet in secret session today reached a decision on a series of "second steps" to be taken in the undeclared war with China over domination of the rich North China provinces.

Immediately after the fateful conference at which only the highest ranking officials were present, Premier Prince Fumimaro Konoye hurried to the Imperial palace to lay the decision before Emperor Hirohito.

The Premier had been meeting with the budget committee during the afternoon when reports were received here of heavy fighting in a widespread area of North China. At once he adjourned the finance session and summoned the ministers of war, navy, foreign affairs and finance to a conference.

The decision they made was not announced publicly.

A major war between Japan and China was regarded by observers as closer than at any time since fighting began between Chinese and Japanese troops July 7.

Dispatches from Tientsin reported Japanese marines, supported by fire from destroyers, had captured Taku, one of Tientsin's twin ports. A Chinese gunboat was reported to have been sunk in the engagement.

Japanese sources declared they had learned an attack had been ordered against their positions around Peiping with the main body of the Chinese army, supported by the Nanking government modernized airforce.

The Japanese seemed to be preparing to meet such an offensive on a major scale. Troops, tanks and armored cars were pouring into the western hills a few miles from the city.

A new airfield was said to have been built in the vicinity of the old summer palace of the Manchou Emperors about midway between Peiping and the low-lying hills. Twenty Japanese planes were reported to have landed there today.

Within Peiping's walls conditions were reasonably orderly with Gen. Chang Tsu-Chung, new head of the Hopei-Chiang provincial council, organizing an emergency protective committee. Chinese charges this was the first step in setting up a Japanese-protected state similar to Manchoukuo. A similar peace preservation committee was formed in Manchuria in 1931 before it declared its independence as Manchoukuo.

An estimated 500 Americans are now living as refugees in the embassy quarter, well supplied with food and medical necessities. They are under protection of United States marines and their morale continued high. No foreigners in the embassy were thought to be in danger.

Chinese Send Crack Troops

Peiping, July 30 (AP)—Heavy artillery firing started suddenly this afternoon southwest of here at Yenchiing University, a refuge of a group of Americans, as China was reported to have ordered her crack central army into action to drive the Japanese army out of North China.

Apprehension was felt for the safety of the Americans at the University. The group was believed to number five women and three men, including President J. L. Stuart, who had refused to act on the warning of the American embassy to leave.

Fighting was general once again about the ancient walls of the Manchou capital. The Japanese army was believed to be engaged in relentless "mopping up" operations against the remnants of the 29th Chinese army, which now holds positions across the Yunting river to the west.

All communication was severed with Yenchiing University as the fighting began there. The University is supported by American missions and is one of China's outstanding educational institutions.

Firing was especially heavy west of the city, indicating a major engagement might be in progress. Japanese troops were re-

STEAMER BURNS IN CHESAPEAKE BAY

The steamer City of Baltimore (above), with 100 to 150 passengers aboard, caught fire on Fort Smallwood, Md., and burned to the water's edge with two persons reported burned to death. The vessel, which plys between Baltimore and Norfolk, Va., was 14 miles out of Baltimore on its way to the Virginia point when the fire broke out. President Roosevelt, when notified of the disaster, ordered ships from the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md., to aid passengers from the burning ship.

2 Dead, 2 Missing
As Liner Burns

edge agnost at the horror before them.

Boats put out from the beaches, fishing craft near the liner hurried toward her.

With the fire licking up the deck, the passengers, joined by the crew, huddled towards the bow.

Screams could be heard ashore above the roar of the flames. Passengers begged for help as those in the smaller boats were driven back by the fierce heat.

An unidentified man picked up a rope, tied one end to the railing and pitched the other overboard. The flames swirled closer. Some grasped the rope and slid down to the water.

The ship, witnesses said, had turned and headed for the shallow water of the west shore.

Mrs. William Klecka, wife of United States Marshall August Klecka, of Bayside, who first notified authorities of the disaster, said lifeboats were not lowered from the burning vessel until 15 minutes after the fire broke out.

She said "everybody along the beach started to call 'fire' and she ran to a telephone to tell the operators to call a fireboat, the coast guard and volunteer firemen."

"When I returned to the beach," she said, "no lifeboats had been lowered. It was fully 15 minutes after I first saw the fire that any lifeboat was lowered."

Capt. Richard B. Wyssong, of the pilot boat William D. Sanner, which aided in rescue work, said several of the city of Baltimore's lifeboats had been lowered when the Sanner reached the scene. The pilot boat grounded once en route, he said, but resumed its trip at full speed within a few minutes.

Luther Booze, of Baltimore, fishing nearby, said he and five companions were the first boat on the scene.

"We yelled to the people to jump," he said, "but they seemed too hysterical to pay any attention. They were scrambling around the railings and screaming."

Jump or Burn.

A few minutes later and it was jump or face the flames. Many nervously pulled themselves to the top rail and let go. Others got over the railing and clung there until the heat forced them to drop.

As the passengers jumped, the small boats piled about, picking them up.

The William D. Sanner, pilot boat, rescued 61.

Max Stein, a Baltimore fruit broker, said that when he jumped into the water a negro, swimming without a life preserver, tore his from him and swam away. Stein said he swam until dragged from the water.

L. S. Haward, of Newport News, Va., said he and Capt. Charles O. Brooks, the ship's veteran master, were the last to leave the ship.

Boats from nearby United States Naval Academy and three navy planes were ordered to search this morning for the missing.

A formal inquiry was called immediately. Capt. Paul E. Tyler, federal steamboat inspector, summoned the survivors and witnesses to a hearing this morning.

Safe ashore, James Johnson, 21, negro kitchen helper told of discovering the fire.

He said he saw smoke curling from the forward section of the freight deck.

"I yelled to the other fellows," he said, "and we got some buckets and water."

A few futile tries and they abandoned their fire-fighting, scrambling to the upper decks.

Rescuers say they were amazed at the resourcefulness of the passengers. Though hysteria gripped many as the flames roared near them, they strapped lifebelts about themselves and moved to the rail.

Rather than jump overboard or go down the rope, some clung to the rails until the fire became too hot. Then they let go and plunged down the side of the liner.

The City of Baltimore was built in 1911 and had a length of 297.5 feet. It was of 2,379 gross tons and with the City of Norfolk, a sistership, plied between Baltimore and Norfolk carrying passengers and cargo.

President Concerned.

Washington, July 30 (AP)—President Roosevelt said today that the Far Eastern situation was very disturbing and that he would keep in close touch with developments over the week-end.

Robert Steuding Injured, Car Is Struck By Train

About seven o'clock Thursday evening, a southbound West Shore passenger train struck the car of Robert Steuding, of Hurley avenue, on the grade crossing at Glenelg Lake Park, injuring the driver and badly damaging the car.

According to the limited information concerning the accident, young Steuding was on his way to a camp at Lake Glenelg, and drove upon the crossing without seeing the approaching train.

Train No. 18 struck the rear of the Steuding car, hurling it aside and bruising Steuding's shoulder and leg, and cutting his nose.

The car was a new Studebaker coach and according to reports, the rear end was quite badly smashed, where it came in contact with the engine.

The local office of the New York Central did not have much information available concerning the accident, and the name of the conductor and engineer of the train is unknown.

An entertaining and interesting courtroom drama occupied the attention of the Maverick Theatre audience Thursday night with the opening of the production "Libel," authored by Edward Woolf, and directed by Robert Elwyn.

The story concerns the alleged libelous statement of a noted English newspaper against Sir Mark Loddon, the article claiming that the individual of that title is another. Based on the escape and later disappearance of two of a trio from a German prison camp shortly before the signing of the Armistice, the action rapidly picks up throughout the first act. At the opening of the second scene the defense attorney springs one surprise after another and the audience must be on its toes all of the time to follow the incidents which mark the approach to the climax of the trial.

While all the roles were well taken special mention should be made of the fine acting of Robert Smith as defense counsel, Frank Rothe as plaintiff's counsel and Robin Batcheller as the plaintiff.

The action takes place entirely in an English court of justice and the play is presented in much the same manner as "Night of January 16th," but the audience is not called upon to render a verdict because of the surprise ending.

For those who like to be thrilled and enjoy courtroom drama the Maverick should be an attraction this week, and as pure entertainment the present play is hard to surpass. "Libel" will continue at the Maverick through Sunday evening.

LEHMAN ASKED TO STUDY RAID ON HOTEL WORKERS.
South Fallsburg, N. Y., July 30 (AP)—New York's Governor Lehman has been asked to conduct an immediate investigation of a raid on the headquarters of the Hotel and Restaurant Employees Union here.

Miguel Garriga, international representative of the union, sent a telegram to the governor demanding the investigation shortly after the raid, in which five union organizers were injured.

The governor is vacationing in Virginia and a secretary said the telegram was not received in the Albany executive offices last night.

No Agreement
In Brick Strike

It was made plain this morning by an authorized representative of the local brick yard interests that no manufacturer of brick in the Hudson river district has made any agreement with the union, and that there has been no change in the brickyard strike situation.

Speaking for the brick interests the spokesman of the group had this to say at noon today: "No change has taken place in the brick strike situation. No manufacturer has made any agreement with the union and none has any intentions of doing so. No progress has been made toward any settlement and no further conferences have been arranged. The manufacturers are simply unable to pass along an increased cost in the form of an increased price for their product. And at the present market prices there is no margin of profit left out of which to pay increased wages."

No Disorder Here.

Sergeant Charles Phinney, who has charge of the police patrol within the city limits of the brickyard district said that there had been no outbreak, and that the strikers on the picket line were still carrying out the orders of the union leaders who have insisted on "peaceful picketing."

Hull of Old Tug
Set On Fire Today

The hull of the former Cornell line tug John N. Cordts burned briskly this afternoon as the hulk of the former tug lay beached on the flats in the Rondout creek opposite the Island Dock shipyard.

It is presumed that the hull was set on fire by young boys playing about the abandoned vessel. The tug, which in its day was one of the most powerful of the Cornell fleet, was dismantled some 20 years ago, and all that remained of her was the hull, which was beached on the flats.

Velox Industrial Act.

Lansing, Mich., July 30 (AP)—Governor Frank Murphy vetoed last night the Michigan industrial relations act after the legislature failed to act on his suggestion that the anti-picketing provisions and others be amended.

Murphy Visits Roosevelt.
Washington, July 30 (AP)—Frank Murphy's week-end White House visit focused speculation today on the red haired, youthful Michigan governor as a possible choice for the supreme court vacancy. Senator Brown (D-Mich.), a political ally of Murphy, said it was "entirely possible the vacancy would be discussed." He explained, however, that he did not know the purpose of the visit.

Fire Damaged Rosendale House

About 4 o'clock this morning fire, of unknown origin, broke out in a 2 1/2-story frame house located on the Rosendale-Lawrenceville road at the intersection of the road that turns into Williams Lake. The Rosendale fire department was called and brought the fire under control, but not until the entire interior of the house was gutted by the flames. The house was vacant at the time, and men have been at work getting it ready for occupancy. The property is owned by John Delany of Rosendale. Again at 11:30 o'clock the Rosendale firemen were called to the house where the fire had rekindled.

COUNTY HORSESHOE PITCHING CHAMPIONSHIPS

A great deal of interest is already being shown in the Ulster county horseshoe pitching championships to be held at Forsyth Park on August 25. They will be held in conjunction with the Farmers' Field Day. The county champion will receive a free trip to the State Fair to compete in the state horseshoe pitching championships early in September.

All amateur pitchers are eligible to the rules may be secured at the Farm Bureau Office, 74 John street, Kingston.

Leah Ursula Bradt To Be Bride of S. E. Mott

Miss Leah Ursula Bradt, daughter of Mrs. Gay Bradt and the late Mr. Bradt of Highland, will be married Saturday morning to Samuel Elmore Mott, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel E. Mott of Esopus. The wedding will take place at 11:30 o'clock in the home of the bride's mother.

The Rev. E. Shew, a friend of the bridegroom's family will officiate. Fifty guests have been invited to the ceremony and to the reception which will follow at the Bradt home.

The bride, who will be given in marriage by her brother, Gay Bradt, of Brooklyn, will wear a gown of white chiffon and satin, trimmed with family heirloom lace, which was made by her paternal grandmother and worn by the bride's mother on her wedding gown. The bride will wear a Juliet cap, also of the antique lace, and carry a colonial bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley.

Miss Bradt's only attendant will be her sister, Mrs. Frederic Goldfinger of New Hyde Park, L. I. Mr. Mott will have his father as best man.

Mr. Mott, who attended Highland High School, is the owner of a fruit farm in Highland, where he and his bride are to make their home. Miss Bradt, who was graduated from the New Paltz Normal School has been teaching in the West Point Grammar school.

A dance and social for the benefit of St. Ann's Church, Sawkill, will be held Saturday evening in the school hall at 8:30 o'clock. The committee in charge expect a large attendance.

Alfred Walden of Stone Ridge underwent an appendectomy yesterday in the Englewood Hospital.

Golf Match At Williamstown

A group of members of the Williamstown Golf Club will motor to the Williamstown, Mass., on Sunday for an inter-club match with the members of the Taconic Club. This beautiful 18 hole course is maintained by Williams College. The playing will start at 1 o'clock. Among those planning to attend are W. T. Fuller, Dr. R. Bruce Whelan, Joseph Koenig, Stephen D. Hillebrand, George W. Pratt, Jay LeFevre, Edward Remmert, Edward Reynolds, John O'Connor, Dr. Douw Myers, Clarence O. Fromer, M. M. Business Girls Entertained

What was expected to be a simple hot dog roast at the summer camp of Mr. and Mrs. Walter T. Elston at Leggs Mills last evening, was found to be a regular party when the members of the Business Girls' Club of the Y. W. C. A. arrived at the camp. Although the hot dog roast was in evidence, the other refreshments provided by the hostess were far superior to a picnic and met with the delight of all present. After a short business meeting, the guests enjoyed many of the new table games. Thirty members were present.

Garden Club Enjoys Address

On Wednesday afternoon the Garden Club enthusiasts were entertained at the home of Mrs. George Washburn. Miss Cecile Thompson, who addressed the meeting, spoke of her experiences in a most interesting manner, at the Lost River Nature Camp, which she had the privilege of attending through the kindness of the Garden Club. Mrs. John Searling assisted the hostess in pouring.

Bridge Club Luncheon

Mrs. Charles Terwilliger entertained members of her bridge club today at a luncheon at her home.

Mrs. John B. Krom left today for Cape Cod where she has leased the J. H. Tremper's cottage for the month of August. Dr. Krom will join Mrs. Krom next week.

Mrs. John Parran, who is visiting Mrs. Copeland Gates of Lake Katrine, will be honored tomorrow by Mrs. Parker Brinmier at a bridge luncheon at the Colony Club. Seven tables will be in play.

Mr. and Mrs. N. LeVan Haver of Main street, and daughter, Barbara, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wood of Stone Ridge, and sons, Thatcher and Robert, and Mr. and Mrs.

Leonard Beers of Albany avenue and daughter, Judy, will leave on Saturday for Madison, Conn., where they have taken a cottage for two weeks.

Mrs. Frank Crow of Philadelphia, Pa., is a guest of Mrs. C. Ray Everett of Delta Place. On Wednesday, Mrs. Everett and her guest motored to Candlewood Lake where they were overnight guests at the summer camp of Mrs. Samuel Stevens of Poughkeepsie.

Miss Margaret Smith of Pine Grove avenue is spending a week with friends at Asbury Park and Atlantic City.

Mr. and Mrs. Paris Scott Russell, Jr., of Staten Island, and their two small children are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Van Lear Woodward of Stone Ridge.

Hommel-VanValkenburgh Grace May Van Valkenburgh of Quarryville and Delphine Hommel of West Saugerties were united in marriage on Saturday, July 24, by Rev. G. B. Bruvold of St. John's Methodist Church, Malden. Elbert Wolven and Agnes Wolven were witnesses at the ceremony.

MOVIE ACTRESS NOW ENGLISH COUNTESS

London, July 30 (AP)—Love almost at first sight brought a wedding today for Virginia Cherrill, American movie actress, and the ninth Earl of Jersey.

The new countess, 29-year-old former wife of Cary Grant and the blind flower girl of Charlie Chaplin's "City Lights," became Britain's sixteenth stage and screen countess.

She and dark, handsome Francis Child Villiers, Earl of Jersey, were married at the Chelsea register office.

Marriage ended the acting career of the Carthage, Ill., countess.

"It's a happy married life to me now," she exclaimed. "It's hard for an actress to be a good housewife but I'm thrilled at the idea of getting married, who wouldn't be?"

The Earl of Jersey—who is also Viscount Grandison, Viscount Villiers and Baron—said they would live in his London Farm street town house because "we cannot afford to live in the family home at Osterley Park."

They met year ago at a party and the new countess said she fell in love with her husband "not at first sight, but very nearly that."

U. P. A. STORES PLAN BUS RIDE FOR DELEGATES.

Another feature of the social program scheduled for the entertainment of the visiting delegates to the New York State Food Merchants' Association's 36th annual convention, which will start Sunday, is a bus ride around the Ashokan reservoir project.

C. R. Everett, transportation committee chairman, has chartered a fleet of Greyhound busses for Wednesday afternoon. The caravan will leave the Governor Clinton Hotel at 2:30 p. m., for a three hours' tour of the scenic reservoir section.

A luncheon will be served to the tourists on the trip. It is planned to return to the hotel in time to permit the guests to rest before attending the banquet and dance to be held at the state armory Wednesday evening.

OFF AGAIN, ON AGAIN, GONE AGAIN, EAR AGAIN

St. Louis, July 30 (AP)—Eleven-year-old Ben Kozak's left ear, sheared off by the wheel of an automobile trailer as he slept in a parking lot, is practically as good as new. The ear was found by an ambulance driver after the boy was taken to a hospital. Physicians sewed it back in place.

In Berwick, Pa., Mrs. Jacob Knecht has been a Sunday school teacher for 52 years.

MARIAN MARTIN BODICE-DETAIL ENHANCES MATRONLY FIGURE

PATTERN 9369

There's captivating charm for the matron in the flattering lines of Pattern 9369! You "Stylish Stouts" who feel there is no place in the fashion world for you, may be happy in the thought that Marian Martin has a special flare for designing slenderizing frocks with bodice detail especially suited to the full figure. Pattern 9369 as you will notice, has a long belted yoke with a graceful roll to its notched collar. The short, cool sleeves will prove the greatest comfort to you on sweltering days, while the panel front skirt with its two smart pleats is plenty full for walking or driving a car. So easy to make is this "charmer" that you will surely want to make several versions in smart gay cotton prints or shantung. Complete Diagrammed Marian Martin Sew Chart Included.

Pattern 9369 may be ordered only in women's sizes 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48 and 50. Size 36 requires 4 1/2 yards 36 inch fabric.

Send FIFTEEN CENTS (15c) in coins or stamps (not preferred) for EACH MARIAN MARTIN pattern. Be sure to write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS, and STYLE NUMBER.

GRACIOUS MANNERS WIN DATES WHEN BOY MEETS GIRL

Etiquette certainly smooths the way to popularity, Bill and Dorothy find.

Bill's manner charms Dorothy. Bill's gracious "How do you do" attracted Dorothy the moment he was introduced. No awkward "Pleased to meet you" spoiled her first impression of him.

When he asked for a date, he said, "Let's go to a movie Saturday," didn't embarrass her with "What are you doing Saturday?"

Calling for her in his car, he didn't honk, but rang her doorbell. As they strolled from parking space to theatre, Bill took the curb side. He asked Dorothy where she'd rather sit, told the usher, and dropped behind, letting Dorothy precede him down the aisle behind the usher.

Dorothy's polite smile charmed Bill right from the start. When he suggested going to a movie, she couldn't or didn't want to accept, she'd have said, "I'm sorry, but I've other plans."

When Bill called she was ready, didn't discourteously keep him waiting. She let him open the car door for her. While he bought the movie tickets she stepped to one side, away from the ticket line. She slipped into the row first, saying "I'm sorry" to people in front of whom she passed.

At the end of the "date" Dorothy said, not "Thank you," but "I had a lovely time, Bill."

Plan for Closing Retail Stores Here

To The Public:

Inasmuch as there seems to be no consistent plan of closing retail stores in the cities in which we operate, and because of the fact that a great many customers have advised us that they were not aware of the fact that we have been closing for some time on one o'clock on Wednesday afternoons, we are asking the paper in which this is published for sufficient space in order that we may state our position and our plan.

Regardless of what any other merchants may do, the Bull Markets will be closed at one o'clock on Wednesdays and will remain closed during the balance of the day, except where a holiday occurs in the week when the Wednesday closing will not be effective.

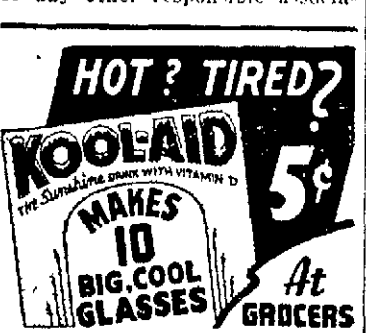

If there is any desire to cooperate in the following hours of operation, the Bull Markets will be glad to adopt a schedule of store operation hours as follows:

Opening 9 on the first four days of the week and closing at 6 except Wednesdays when the closing will be 1.

Opening at 8 on Fridays and closing at 10 p. m.

Opening at 8 on Saturdays and closing at 7 p. m.

This plan is offered because the management of the Bull Markets believes that a forty-eight hour week is long enough for anyone to be employed, who is actively engaged in physical labor and, especially so, when the labor is done indoors. The opportunity is taken at this time to propose this proposition to any group of store operators, business organizations, or any other responsible association.

At GROCERS

tion of men engaged in retail merchandising. Of course, no plan which is as broad as this may be adopted by anyone unless there is a cooperative spirit.

May we add in closing that we think it fair to the buying public to offer as much store service as possible but we do not think it fair to our employees that the hours of operation shall be as long and arduous as they have been in the past and neither do we think that the average retail buyer demands these long hours of service if they will give the matter careful thought. We also think a cooperative effort will be better than a spasmodic opening and closing on any days or at any hours which seem to suit the ideas of individual store owners. This letter is not written with any wish to dictate any policy of management to any business man but is written in the interest of better working conditions for employees and for a clearer understanding of the hours of operation by the public at large.

Yours truly,

Smith Takes Field To Lead Tammany

New York, July 30 (AP).—Former Governor Alfred E. Smith, the "Happy Warrior" of other years, returned to the political battlefield today faced with the unprecedented task of guiding a Tammany - endorsed mayoralty candidate through a Republican primary.

Dropping his role as behind-the-scenes advisor, Smith stepped into the breach after the funeral yesterday of Tammany Leader James J. Dooling and attempted to rally the Hall's quarrelling factions firmly behind the candidacy of United States Senator Royal S.

Copeland for the mayorship of New York city.

Meanwhile, announcement by both Copeland and Mayor Fiorello LaGuardia that they would seek the Republican nomination for mayor, indicated the wearer of the brown derby in supporting Copeland would have to cross party lines in one of the most tangled campaigns of his 43 years in politics.

Smith, a Grand Sachem in the Wikwam, met with a majority of the Tammany leaders in his office in the Empire State Building.

He pleaded with sub-leaders of disordered Tammany to unite behind Copeland, his personal friend and a friend of the dead Dooling.

Although the Hall is formally pledged to Copeland, many of its chiefs have openly declared their intention of supporting Grover A. Whalen, former police commissioner and candidate of the four Democratic borough organizations outside Tammany-controlled Manhattan.

The harmony session, which Senator Copeland also attended, was marred by the walkout of Acting Tammany Leader William P. Kennedy, in opposition to a move to elect an immediate successor to Dooling. Smith's forces said, however, they would meet Monday, despite Kennedy's objections, and choose the new leader.

RENEWS PLEAS TO FREE SCOTTSBORO NEGROES.

New York, July 30 (AP).—Samuel Lebowitz, attorney for the "Scottsboro boys," renewed today appeals to Alabama officials to free five of nine negro youths still held for an alleged mass rape of two white women six and a half years ago.

Lebowitz, Norman Thomas, Socialist leader, and Ruby Bates, one-time prosecution witness, promises a "fight to the finish" at a mass meeting last night celebrating the liberation of four of the defendants.

A long ovation greeted the four who were freed—Roy Wright, Otis Montgomery, Willie Robinson and Eugene Williams.

Lebowitz, saying officials conceded the weakness of their case by freeing four defendants, called upon Attorney General Albert A. Carmichael of Alabama to use his influence to liberate the remaining five.

When the Spaniards landed in Mexico in 1519 they found the people of Yucatan cultivating tobacco, and using it for both smoking and snuff.

Child Found In Lap of Murdered Mother

The one-year-old child of Mrs. Mary Albright of Gettysburg, Pa., was found unharmed in the lap of her mother after the latter had been slain, according to police, by an enraged farmer, Charles Martin, at Frederick, Md. Police said Martin also killed another woman and then himself. The child is being held by Thelma Miller, a neighbor.

Rural Mailmen Meet in Newburgh

Newburgh, N. Y., July 30 (AP).—More than 400 rural letter carriers from all parts of the state gathered here today for the opening of the 35th annual convention of the New York State Rural Letter Carriers Association.

The sessions, and those of the Ladies' Auxiliary and the Junior Auxiliary, will continue tomorrow when officers will be elected. Listed as speakers at tonight's banquet are Second Assistant Postmaster General James W. Cole, Attorney General John J. Bennett and Congressman Hamilton Fish and James M. Mead.
